Meeting To Sign Treaty

U. S. Advises the Soviet Not be To Reopen the Terms of Peace

MOSCOW, Aug. 16—(AP)—The U.S. Embassy delivered a copy of the draft treaty for Japan to the Soviet ministry of foreign affairs today, an informed source said.

Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will represent his country at the Japanese treaty conference in San Francisco which opens Sept. 4.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 — (AP) — The United States told Russia today the Japanese peace treaty conference at San Francisco next month "is not a conference to reopen negotiations on the terms of peace."

In a formal note delivered in Moscow, the U. S. government in effect advised the Soviet government that its apparent intention to raise basic treaty issues at San Francisco is out of order since the purpose of the meeting will be "conclusion and signature" of a treaty already drafted.

The note was made public shortly after President Truman said he did not think the arrangements already made for signing the treaty could be upset by anyone.

Mr. Truman was asked at a news conference if he thought the decision of the Russians to attend the San Francisco meeting would upset plans for signing the treaty.

He replied no, he didn't think the treaty can be upset by anyone.

At the same time the President said he would be happy to see Andrei Gromyko, deputy Soviet foreign minister, is the latter wanted to visit him en route to San Francisco.

Had Ample Time

The American note to Moscow declared Russia has had "equal opportunity with the other allies" during the past 11 months to help write the treaty.

It reminded the Russians that when they sent word last Sunday that they would have a delegation in San Francisco they also stated that their delegation would "present proposals of the Soviet government" on Japanese peace treaty questions.

The note went on to say the United States welcomed Russia's decision to attend but then pointed out the strict limitations which his government sees for the conference "in order that there should be no possibility" of Soviet misunderstanding.

Fears have been expressed in some circles that Russia's belated acceptance of an invitation to the conference might lead to prolonged discussions and an effort by Russia to block the signing.

The President was told at a news conference that Gromyko will go to San Francisco by way of Washington and a reporter wanted to know if Mr. Truman expected to receive the Russian delegate.

The President said that if Mr. Gromyko wants to see him, he'll be happy to talk with the deputy foreign minister.

Mr. Truman is flying to San Francisco to address delegates to the peace conference Sept. 4, the opening day.

He said he expects to stop off at his home in Independence, Mo., on the return trip and spend a day or two there if nothing comes up in Washington to prevent it.

No Bars, No Roof No Jail Guests

ANNA MARIA, Fla., Aug. 16—(AP)— The city of Anna Maria thinks its jail should be popular, because anyone can walk in or out at will.

It has been used only once since it was built 25 years ago.

About 20 years ago two men were locked up there overnight by federal agents on charges of trying to smuggle foreigners into this country.

People hereabouts have behaved so well that when fire gutted the jail last spring, the city commission decided against repairing it.

Instead the commission capitalized on the town's reputation for law-abiding citizens and put up a huge sign which says:

Anna Maria city jail — no roof, no doors, no windows, no bars, no guests."

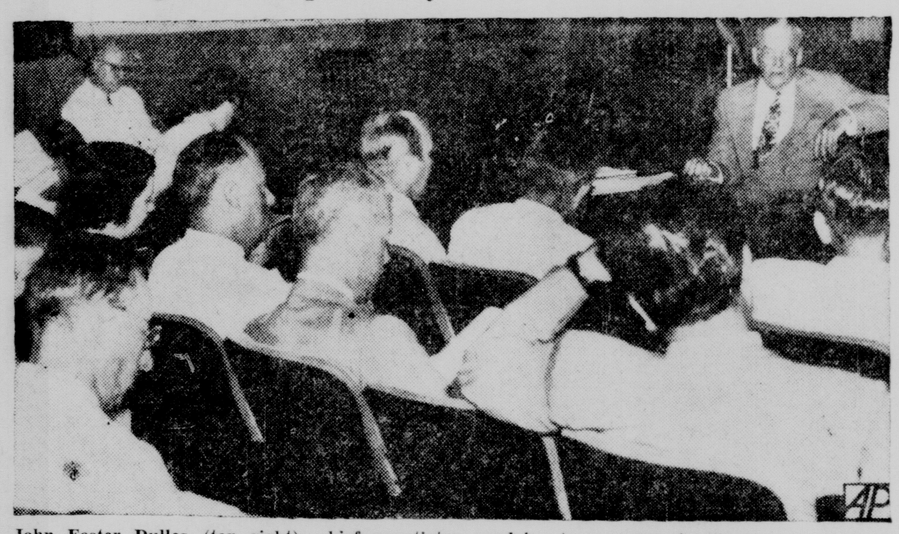

Women Help by Defense Support

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—President Truman was asked today in what way the average American woman can aid the defense effort. He said by supporting the program for defense.

The woman reporter, who put the question at his news conference, then asked the president to cite a concrete way they can help.

Mr. Truman replied that it was up to the women as citizens of the country to determine how best they can support it.

Wrong Drug Is Used For Injections

Fatal to Two 'Human Guinea Pigs' in Test

VERMILLION, S. D., Aug. 16—(AP)—A 28-year-old doctor said today in a signed statement "I gave the wrong drug," taking the lives of two "human guinea pigs" at the University of South Dakota.

Dr. Louis F. Michalek, a member of the university staff, gave a signed statement—relating his mistaken identification of an injection drug — to Clay County States Attorney Martin Weeks, Jr.

Dr. Michalek completed internship a month ago.

He was scheduled to testify later today at an inquest called into deaths of Jack Clifford, 30, laboratory technician, and Mrs. Ardys Pearson, 26, a secretary. Injections of a yet undisclosed drug were given the two Tuesday afternoon during an experiment. They died 24 hours later.

Dr. Donald Slaughter, dean of the university medical school, said earlier all known antidotes were given without effect. Discovery that the wrong drug had been used halted the experiment and saved lives of Dr. Michalek and a fourth person who was to have participated.

Dr. Slaughter said sworn statements by persons present when the tests were conducted were to be given to representatives of the state criminal investigator's office.

Combination of Drugs

The tests involved combination of drugs to study pain-killer effects, Dr. Slaughter said. He termed such experiments common to medical schools and said he and associates had conducted "thousands of similar tests,' beginning in 1938 in Dallas, Tex.

The experiment in this particular test, Dr. Slaughter said called for the use of a morphine, sedative drug, and cortisone, a new drug which is being used in treatment of arthritis and allied conditions.

"Another drug was picked up instead of morphine," Dr. Slaughter said. "It was this drug that had the toxic effect. The drug, cortisone, is not involved in the toxicity.

"This type of experiment when conducted with the proper sedative drugs has been carried on without ill effect," Dr. Slaughter said in an interview.

Tests of New Drugs

Several new drugs which have a sedative action have been discovered through such experiments, he added.

Before starting the Tuesday tests, the morphine and cortisone experiments were conducted for three months on dogs at the university laboratory.

Volunteering to take injections were Clifford, Mrs. Pearson, a third university employe who was

New Counterfeit Bills Circulate

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16—(AP)—New counterfeit $10 and $20 bills are circulating in the St. Louis area, the head of the secret service bureau here disclosed today.

Leo Smugai said 15 of the bogus 20s and three of the 10s have been turned over to his agents. He termed the 20s "very deceptive" but described the 10s as "not so good."

Smugai said the bills are printed on thinner paper than genuine currency with a duller green ink.

Zwillman as The 'Kingpin' Bootlegger

Been Sought by Crime Probers as A Witness

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—Senate crime-probers developed a story today that Abner (Longie) Zwillman offered to contribute $300,000 to the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1949 but was turned down. State Senator Elmer Wene was the Democratic nominee.

The story was related by James Bishop of Teaneck, N. J. a writer and one-time reporter who served as an adviser to Wene in the campaign.

Bishop said the offer was relayed from Zwillman by George Kesselhaut an assistant to the then Democratic leader in Essex county Col. William Kelly.

Bishop said he told Wene about it the next day and that the state senator would have no part of it.

Joe Hall

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—A retired treasury intelligence employe told the senate crime committee today Abner (Longie) Zwillman was a kingpin in a bootlegging syndicate which made $50,000,000 in six years.

Edwin Baldwin of Summit, N. J., testified this mob handled 40 per cent of all illicit liquor brought into the U. S. during prohibition.

Baldwin described Zwillman and Joseph Rheinfeld as top men in this northern New Jersey bootlegging syndicate, and commented:

"I worked on the Waxey Gordon and Dutch Schultz (former New York and New Jersey gangsters) cases, and they were pikers compared to the Rheinfeld syndicate."

The crime committee, conducting its last three days of open hearings, had sought Zwillman as a key witness but so far he has evaded subpoena servers. He has been reported at sea on yachts in the Atlantic.

The committee today began delving into gangster influences in the northern New Jersey area adjacent to New York City.

Asked what happened to the Rheinfeld syndicate after repeal, Baldwin replied there "had been a falling out among thieves."

Baldwin testified the syndicate

Chambers in Testimony as To The IPR

Names Barnes and Field During His Being Quizzed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers testified today the head of the Communist underground in the United States once told him Joseph Barnes and Frederick Vanderbilt field were members of the Red underground.

Chambers, confessed former courier for Communist spies, said he was told that by J. Peters, Hungarian-born Communist leader who fled this country several years ago.

Chambers gave his testimony to the senate internal security committee, which is inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

The hearings are centered now on the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR), an organization created some 30 years ago for the avowed purpose of promoting study of the Pacific area.

Both Barnes and Field have been connected with the IPR. Field is the New York millionaire left-winger now serving a jail term for contempt of court. The charge arose out of his refusal to give a federal judge information about the sources of bail money for Communists.

Barnes is now connected with a New York publishing firm. He formerly was a well known foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune.

In Previous Hearings

Names of both men have been brought into the hearings previously. Barnes has denied he ever had any Communist connections.

Field once refused to answer a question at a congressional hearing as to whether he had been a Communist.

Chambers also told the senators that in 1932 Edmund Clubb, now head of the State Department's China desk, came to his office in the new masses, a Communist magazine, with a message from someone in China.

Clubb is now under suspension of duty from his state department job. He was suspended several

Sister Kenny Has No Cancer

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 16—(AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, incurably ill, left by plane today for what may be her last visit abroad.

On the same plane was a polio victim being flown to the Sister Kenny clinic in Minneapolis, Minn., in hopes the treatment devised by the famous nurse may cure him.

He is Jack Hall of San Carlos, Calif., a Pan-American pilot who was stricken while on a vacation here.

In an airport interview, Miss Kenny told reporters she wanted to assure friends all over the world who have cabled advice that "my illness is not cancer." She did not identify the disease further. She said she may have "a couple of years" to live.

Miss Kenny is en route to Copenhagen, Denmark, for an international conference on poliomyelitis.

Famed Concert Pianist is Dead

AXENSTEIN, Switzerland, Aug. 16—(AP)—Artur Schanabel, 69, famed concert pianist, died last night after a brief illness.

Celebrated throughout the musical world as a foremost interpreter of the great German composer Beethoven, Schnabel also was a composer of note.

Schnabel, who had a long career on concert stages throughout the world, was noted for his work in editing the piano sonatas of Beethoven as well as works of Brahms and Mozart.

He was born in Lipnik, Austria, April 17, 1882, and made his debut as a pianist at the age of eight.

Kiwanians Hear Producer of 'Hi, Frenchie' at Luncheon

Miss Ray Nell, producer of "Hi, Frenchie," with the Cetlin and Wilson shows at the Missouri State Fair this year, told Sedalia Kiwanians about her life in the show business at the club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. She was introduced by Richmond Cox, public relations representative of the shows, who also made a short talk.

The Cetlin & Wilson shows are 25 years old and they are making their first appearance west of the Mississippi at the State Fair next week. Eight hundred and seventy people travel with the organization.

Henry Salveter was program chairman.

John Ryan, of the agriculture committee, presented Kiwanis medal awards to Betty Vardeman, route 1, Houghesville, blue ribbon beef cattle winner and showmanship winner; and R. D. Kahrs, Smithton, blue ribbon swine division winner and showmanship winner at the 4-H Livestock show August 13.

Directors To Meet

President T. H. Yount announced there would be a board of directors meeting at the home of Ed McLaughlin Friday night at 7:30.

The Rev. Lee Soxman announced that the Kiwanis club would join with Rotary in a meeting Monday night, August 27 at 6:30 dinner in Bothwell hotel to hear the Rev. George Percival, Chesterfield, England, as guest speaker. This will be a Ladies night and Guest night program.

The committee in charge of arrangements: Co-chairmen, William Ward and Dick Snow; decorations, Mrs. Z. Lyle Brown and Mrs. T. H. Yount. Music and program, Fred Brink and William Ward; tickets, T. H. Yount and Emory Bowman; house, Ernest Thompson and Dr. Reinhold Fisher. Henry Salveter will be program chairman and the Rev. Roy L. Bowers will introduce the speaker.

Guests Thursday were: Kiwanian Hugo O. Isbell, Marshall; William Drew, Indianapolis, with his brother Dan Drew; and Sam Isenhart, Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, with John Ryan. Mr. Isenhart is visiting in Knob Noster, his former home.

Alliance by U. S. And The Philippines

Mutual Defense Pact to Meet Possible Dangers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The United States and the Philippines announced agreement today on a mutual defense treaty pledging each nation to "act to meet the common dangers" in the event of an armed attack on the other.

The pact will be signed early next month, presumably at the Japanese peace treaty conference opening Sept. 4 in San Francisco.

The announcement, made simultaneously here and at Manila, said that the defense agreement will embody commitments which already exist between the United States and the Philippines. These result from agreements on American use of bases in the islands and American aid in building up Philippine armed forces.

The American-Philippines treaty is one of four now projected for signing next month in connection with the establishment of a Japanese peace.

The other three are: The proposed Japanese peace treaty which will restore Japan's independence and permit its rearming; a mutual U. S.-Japanese security treaty to permit American armed forces to operate in and around Japan after the occupation ends; and an American-New Zealand-Australian defense treaty.

The Australia-New Zealand and the Philippines pacts would make precisely the same kind of commitment.

The alliance represents another

Fatally Shoots Self in Home

Charles Edwards Dies While on Way To The Hospital

Charles Edwards, 46, painter, shot and fatally wounded himself about 2:30 p.m. today in his bedroom at 1321 South Ohio. Edwards was said by others, who resided in the apartment house, to have been despondent for some time and that was possibly the reason for his action.

Edwards was taken from the home by Ewings and to the Bothwell hospital in their ambulance.

He was found by Mrs. Mollie McGee, who was in another apartment. Edwards had walked into Mrs. McGee's kitchen and conversed with her for a few minutes and then turned and walked into his room. A few seconds later she reported she heard a sharp crack like a gunshot and Edwards fall to the floor.

Mrs. McGee said she first thought Edwards had fallen into a fan, then to the floor. She rushed in and found him unconscious, and still thought he had been hurt by the fan until she noticed the gun several feet east of the body.

She called police and then an ambulance.

He is survived by his two children, Janice and Diane, who resided with their mother in Kansas, a brother Roy Edwards, 1323 South Prospect, two sisters, Mrs. Glenn Forgeus, of Kansas City, and Mrs. Bernice Mills, Otterville. His parents, the late Thomas B. and Gertrude Edwards preceded him in death.

Farm Bill For Over a Billion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—A farm bill carrying more than a billion dallars in cash and loans was agreed upon today by a senate-house conference committee. The group had the task of compromising differences in bills passed by the senate and house.

Senator Russell (D-Ga) and Rep. Whitten (D-Miss) said the agricultural appropriation contained $800,000,000 of cash and $262,000,000 of loans.

The measure now goes back to the house and then later to the senate for expected final passage.

The conference committee fixed farmer payments under the soil conservation plan for this year at $260,000,000. The house had voted $256,500,000 and the senate $280,000,000.

If pledged payments are above the compromise $260,000,000, the excess will be taken from next year's payments.

Found Strangled In a Jail Cell

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16—(AP)—A 26-year-old pinball machine repairman was found strangled in a jail cell last night less than two hours after he was arrested on complaint of a 13-year-old boy for molestation.

He was John W. Doubek, Jr., married and father of a four-year-old daughter.

Police Capt. Elias Hoagland said Doubek denied the charge.

Acting guard Joseph Arico of the Ruskin avenue police station found Doubek's body on a bunk in the cell. He had been strangled with leather laces from his moccasins.

An inquest was scheduled.

Many Companies Show Machinery

Forty-three companies are represented in the machinery exhibit at the Missouri State Fair this year.

This display will include every type of farm equipment with several large companies represented.

The machinery department at the fair this year will offer an exhibit that is varied and of unusual interest.

Plenty Desire To Become President

Truman Asserts They Don't Know What Getting Into

By D. Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 — (AP) — President Truman said today there are plenty of people ambitious to be president, but they don't know what they are getting into.

That was his latest comment on presidential possibilities for 1952 almost a year before the nominating conventions. He didn't name anyone.

At the same time, he admonished reporters that they are working politics to the vanishing point when there are plenty of other things more important to talk about.

The president said the Japanese peace treaty will be signed and he does not think the signing arrangements can be upset by anybody. This was in reply to a question whether he believes Russia's decision to attend the San Francisco treaty ceremony next month would "damage" such arrangements.

Asked about reports that Gen. Douglas MacArthur would attend and speak at the treaty signing, he said he did not know but the deposed Pacific commander would be welcome. He added it would be all right with him if the State department invited MacArthur, but added that Ambassador John Foster Dulles, who handled treaty negotiations, had covered the situation pretty well.

Politics, as usual of late, broke open today's news conference. A reporter commented that General Dwight D. Eisenhower is not a

Endorse Half Million Fund

Committee For That Sum From Government

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16—(AP)—A special Missouri flood relief committee endorsed today a $500,000,000 federal emergency flood rehabilitation program.

The program was outlined by A. E. Howse, assistant director of defense mobilization. He said President Truman will present it to congress in a few days.

The state committee agreed with Howse that quick action is needed to put the flooded area back on its feet.

"We've reached the point where we ought to have results without fussing around and quibbling over it. We need relief now," Gov. Forrest Smith said.

Howse concurred that "very quick, very direct" action is needed.

"We cannot permit a disaster area of this size to remain prostrate," he said.

He promised rehabilitation would be carried out with a minimum of red tape. For example, plans are being made to permit flood sufferers to make their claims at their own local banks.

Besides endorsing Howse's 7-point rehabilitation program, the state committee asked the governor to enlist the aid of other governors and all Missouri ma-

Donations From Around the World to Rebuild Hospital

By Tom Maddox

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—Note to 32,500 good neighbors living in all 48 states and 15 nations around the world: A while back you heard Effingham's hospital burned with a loss of 77 lives and you chipped in to help rebuild. Work has started now on a $4,000,000 hospital.

Effingham, self styled "Crossroads of America," had the second worst hospital fire in history April 4-5, 1949. The 72-year-old St. Anthony's hospital became a pyre for the 13 babies in it, two nuns, a priest and a nurse beside adult patients.

It was operated by Roman Catholic sister of the Third Order of St. Francis who have been running hospitals 108 years. But the ten men who organized, before the debris cooled, to rebuild were all Protestants.

They faced an unlikely feat of raising enough money in a town so small (pop. 6900). They counted on federal help (38 per cent) and state aid (18 per cent). That wasn't enough.

But they lived in a land where neighbors harvest crops for widows and never gave up hope.

They hired no professional fund raiser but their methods opened purses of 32,500 good neighbors in each of the United States and 15 foreign countries. They harvested $560,000. Some gave as little as a few cents and 31,659 gave less than $100 each.

Money In On Strings

Here are examples of how nearly 40 per cent of the $560,000 came from beyond the area the hospital served:

The committee sent out 600,000 letters—toted in bushel baskets to the postoffice until it looked like Christmas. At churches and in a hotel lobby printed letters were provided for all to send. They bore graphic night and day pictures of the disaster.

Strings and shipping cards went out. They came back with $1s, $5s and $10s tied to the strings.

Letters went to all Rileys and O'Rileys and other Irish names in Boston, Chicago, Providence and St. Louis—telling the story how lovely Fern Riley, 23, died a heroine nurse. Her last words were: "My babies. I've got to stay with my babies."

Letters by Co-chairman George Dehn urged each recipient to return $1 and send like letters to

New Slants In Moves Taken At Truce Talks

Broader Power To Defense Body

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16—(AP) — Missouri's civil defense agency would have much broader powers under suggested new legislation prepared by Ralph W. Hammond, state defense director.

The plan, to be submitted to the legislature next month, would revise the law passed at the spring session. It would increase the functions and extend the powers of the defense agency.

The present law grants limited emergency powers to the governor and his civil defense board at the time of an actual enemy attack on Missouri or an adjoining state.

The new plan would extend this to include attacks on any of the 48 states, Canada or Mexico. Floods, fires and other local disasters would be included in the definition of emergency situations.

Instead of the present voluntary basis, all towns over 5,000 would be required to organize civil defense groups for local protection and for outside assignment when necessary.

Sen. William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood, president pro tem of the Senate, said he was opposed to the plan since it would create "a vast state organization subject to call on almost any occasion."

Induction to Married Men

More Draftees Be Sent Sept. 15 For Examination

Th local selective service board for Pettis county has received official notice from the state director of the selective service headquarters in Jefferson City to the effect that married men are now subject to induction through their local draft boards.

The notice which was received by the local board stated that "it will be noted that married registrants are no longer entitled to deferment and that they should be reclassified into Class 1-A."

This change in the selective service act of 1948, however, concerns only married men, who have only their wife as a dependent. Married men with dependants other than their wives will remain in a 3-A classification under the amendment to the Universal Military Training and Service act.

Forms be Sent

In the next few days the local selective service office will send forms to all married men, which are to be filled out in the presence of a notary public and returned to Mrs. Verna Williams, clerk of the local selective service office. The draft board has announced, however, that the County clerk has consented to authorize these forms at no charge.

Parents and friends waited for some of the mufti-clad youths, but thier former classmates in the cadet corps gave them scant attention.

Encouragement Given as to Breaking Snarl On Parallel Issue

By Robert B. Tuckman

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, Aug. 17—(AP)—Truce talks moved into a new and informal phase today as allies and Reds sought to break their long impasse over a demarcation line.

Negotiators created a small subcommittee to try to untangle the snarl over where a demarcation line should be drawn between opposing armies.

It was the most encouraging step they have taken thus far toward solving this particular issue.

The change in tactics came amid growing, but cautious, optimism the Reds may be willing to compromise on their demand for a demilitarized zone back along the 38th parallel. The Allies want it right where they are now, along the present battlefront in defensible terrain.

The subcommittee, consisting of two delegates from each side, was created Thursday. It will hold its first meeting at 11 a.m., today (7 p.m. Thursday, CST).

Its members will meet informally in Kaesong where formal, full dress negotiations have been locked over this same point for more than three weeks.

No Communiques

The U.N. command said it will issue no communiques during these meetings. And the press will not be briefed on what happened. The purpose is to allow the negotiators complete freedom in trying to find a satisfactory recommendation.

There was no indication how long the problem might be in the hands of the subcommittee.

Daily sessions of the full, five-man delegations will be suspended while the smaller group works.

The subcommittee idea was advanced Wednesday by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. delegate. He suggested a small group meeting informally might solve the question which has stymied conferences of the full delegations for 16 consecutive meetings.

Quiet Broken on Korean Front

By George A. McArthur

U. S. 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 16 — (AP) — Sharp, sporadic patrol clashes in the intense and muggy summer heat broke the quiet of the Korean front today.

Reds used mortars, machine guns and some artillery to repel Allied patrols from the Hwachon reservoir to the east coast. Elsewhere there were only occasional short fights as foot patrols met suddenly, fought for a few minutes and withdrew.

Along the eastern front Allied patrols pushed to the edge of dug-in Red positions before the Communist machine guns and mortars opened up. Reds also hurled several heavy barrages from their Russian type self propelled guns and 76 millimeter artillery.

AP correspondent Stan Carter reported there were only three small, but intense, fights on the central fight.

In the west one allied patrol twice ran into small groups of Reds outside the five mile neutral zone surrounding Kaesong, site of cease-fire negotiations. The patrol withdrew after the second encounter.

Fifth Air Force planes struck the Reds in 238 combat sorties Thursday up to 6 p. m. Forty-eight were in direct support of ground troops.

Balloon Barrage Pierces Iron Curtain

HOW BALLOON MESSAGES CAN PIERCE IRON CURTAIN—Map shows how baloons, loaded with anti-Communist propaganda, information on the Western way of life and instructions on how to listen to Radio Free Europe, located in Munich, are borne on the prevailing west-to-east winds (arrows) across the Iron Curtain. Heavy arcs on map show ranges of the balloons used. These are of two types—a small, rubber one, similar to those used by the U. S. Weather Bureau, with a range of about 180 miles. Inflated with oxygen, it rises to a height of 15,000 feet, expanding all the time. Eventually in extremely rarified atmosphere, it bursts, discharging its load of leaflets. The other kind, with a range of some 800 miles, is a plastic "pillow" type, much larger. It rises into the stratosphere and gradually, by seepage, loses gas to the point where it descends, bounces along the ground until somebody picks it up.

AERIAL MESSENGER — Large polyethylene meteorological balloons, like this one used for naval aviation research, can carry messages of hope behind the Iron Curtain. Made of polyethylene plastic, they rise into the stratosphere and can travel as far as 800 miles before gas seepage forces them down. Balloons aimed at Czechoslovakia, for instance, would have the Czech word "Svoboda" — "Freedom" — in large letters on their sides. They can be equipped to spill propaganda leaflets over a wide area.

"F" IS FOR FREEDOM—Carrying freedom's message to Germans behind the Iron Curtain are pamphlet-hauling balloons like this one being prepared for launching by West Berlin youths. The letter "F" is the anti-Communist sign for freedom. A fuse attached to the cardboard container causes it to explode and release leaflets over the Soviet sector of Berlin. Declares One Frenchman Can Be Wrong

By Hal Boyle

PENGILLY, Minn.—(AP)—Peace is important to the men in Korea. But they are also worried about what is happening to the legs of American girls.

Is a new curtain descending over the main stems back home they adore?

This query is raised in a letter from Lieut. Tom Hamrick, writing form "near that li'l old parallel" in Korea. He is fretting over reports that the French designer Christian Dior, creator of the "new look," has again decreed that women's skirts should go lower.

(Editor's Note: Why doesn't Dior design circus tents if he hates legs?)

(Boyle's Note: Look, don't argue with me. We all agree. But let's let Hamrick say it. He's over there.)

(Editor's Note: Okay. But I still say if 50,000,000 Frenchmen can't be wrong—well, one can be.)

(Boyle's Note: How do you like them—slender like a pipe-cleaner or curvy like a fat rainbow.)

(Editor's Note: Oh, I just like them. I'm a man of principle. Give it back to Hamrick. What's he say?)

Well, Hamrick's from Charleston, S. C., where "legs are more — much more — beautiful than moonlight over magnolias." He says:

"Speaking for a lot of guys sitting around in a lot of holes, I'd like to say Christian Dior is about as far off base as an alligator in a canary cge.

"He may not realize it, but if Dior gets his way with women's fashions he's going to be as popular as Kim Il Sung (the North Korean dictator) when the lads come tearing off that ship at Frisco with their eyes banjoing like Eddie Cantor's. After Korea they want to see only two things. Grandma used to say it was vulgar and cover up two of their four finest possessions is—let be scream like Patrick Henry—nothing short of treason."

(Editor's Note: Excuse me for interrupting. But where does he get that figure four?)

Boyle's Note: It's simple—two legs, two elbows. All Lieutenants are crazy about elbows.)

(Editor's Note: How about their brains?)

(Boyle's Note: He's talking about women).

(Editor's Note: Excuse me. The third race just came in. I was thinking of horses.)

Anyway, Lieut. Hamrick says the guys in Korea are so steamed up they will catalouge Dior along with the "Arch-Rouges of all time if his 'cover them calves' edict comes to pass.

"Back there in the 'old country' (as you know GI's refer to the home of the installment plan) this gent must have become overexposed to milady's snazzy underpinning. If he could arrange to come to Korea, he would not only change his mind but come damned close to losing it altogether.

"Over here the women do things in perfect reverse of America's most dreamed—about sex. They cover their legs but let the feminine areas north of the navel get all the sunshine and fresh air they can absorb.

"The ladies wear something in the way of baggy pants which reminds you very much of the old golf knickers daddy used to wear. Over here woman hood plods along dusty roads in rubber shoes which give her all the sex appeal of a dead horse.

"For months the rest of the guys and I have been dreaming day and night about that fifth freedom —the one which entitles you to stand on street corners and watch women's leg's go by.

"Viva La Legs!"

Don't worry, Liuetenant, the legs you look for here are still visable.

Dig isn't covering them up so much as an old rusty bugle. That is calling a lot of girls to defense factory overalls again. But they don't wear them after work.

Vote of Confidence For Italian Lire

ROME—(AP)—Italian postal savings totalled about $1,200,000,000 on June 30, 1951, an increase of 74,200,000,000 lires, compared with the total on Dec. 31, 1950.

Rome's financial newspaper, "Il Globo," said the increase reflects Italian confidence in the stability of the lire.

Rocks of nearly all geological ages can be found in the southwest.

Social Events

The Sedalia Country Club Women Golfers were hostesses to the women golfers of the Elm Hills club, Tuesday, August 12. The 9-hole event was followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. T. J. Bruce, of Elm Hills, won the price in the best poker hand event with a full house. Mrs. L. Parker and Mrs. J. B. Dwyer tied for second place with 4 of a kind. For Sedalia, Mrs. C. G. Wilson and Mrs. Norman Scotten each had a full house. Mrs. H. E. Gouge had 4 of a kind.

Church News

The M.Y.F. of Goodwill Chapel church met August 6th at the church. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer led by the president, Mina Kroeger. Roll call was answered by 19 members. New officers elected for the coming year are as follows: president, Betty Jean Leiter; vice-president, Charles Henry Green; secretary-treasurer, Mina Lou Kroeger; worship and evangelism chairman, Doris Dean Parrish; Missouri and world friendship chairman, Charlene Margaret Eye, with Tommy Lee Leiter and Ruth Hopkins as assistants; community service chairman, Billy Bob Litz; recreation and service, chairman, Barbara Ann Leiter, Earl Wayne Green and Robert Seburn Eye.

The meeting was dismissed by the M.Y.F. benediction.

During the social hour games were played.

Rev. Carl Opp and Mrs. Opp are the sponsors. In the near future a counsel meeting for all officers to decide the date of the next meeting will be held.

Mrs. W. A. Green's circle of the Epworth M. E. church, Broadway and Engineer, met August 14th in the home of Mrs. Frank Clark, 923 East Broadway, with Mrs. Ida Ward and Mrs. Clark as hostesses. There were 15 members and four visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. V. G. Tucker, Peggy Craig, Gary Dyer and Connie Beals.

Fifty-six sick calls were made since the July meeting. Devotionals were given by Mrs. Fred Meyers, Mrs. Frank Clark and Mrs. Elmer Coulter. Prayer was by Mrs. Maude Burlingame.

A game was played under the guidance of Mrs. Clark.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned until September when the hostesses will be Mrs. James Hall and Mrs. A. C. Heckenliable.

Church News Of Near-by Towns

Mrs. Wilford Acker assisted by Mrs. Walter Haynes was hostess to the members of the Home Builders Sunday School class of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, Tuesday afternoon at her home in Sedalia.

The president, Mrs. A. M. Kendrick, presided over the session.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Acker. Routine business was taken care of and Mrs. Nannie Sims read a short article on the "Resurrection," which was followed by a study period of the 7th and 8th chapters of St. Matthew, led by Mrs. J. G. W. Kirschner.

Members present other than those mentioned were: Mrs. Glen Morrow, the teacher of the class, Miss Cecile Vogelbaugh, Mrs. Albert Upton and daughter, Alice, Miss Erma Whallon, Mrs. True Ulmer, Mrs. Ezra Inselman, Mrs. R. W. Stewart, Mrs. Charles H. Ward, Mrs. J. M. Palmer and Mrs. Howard Burton.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Capt. Teel in the Pyongyang Raid

Capt. Marvin F. Teel of Warrensburg, a son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Opp, was on one of the 53 B-26 bombers that smashed at Pyongyang Aug. 2, in one of the heaviest raids in recent weeks on the city.

Capt. Teel reported a large explosion which seemed to light up a five mile radius — probably large ammunition or gasoline dumps.

The story was broadcast on KMOX and the Rev. Opp received a letter from Rex Davis, news director there, telling him of the broadcast and expressing hope that the broadcast did not cause the family undue alarm.

Texas Town Pays Debts To Old Maids

DENTON, Tex., Aug. 16—(AP)—The old maids came to Denton Wednesday and to show their hearts are in the right place began talking about a day for bachelors.

This is Denton's second annual Old Maid's Day. It's the idea of Miss Dorothy Babb, teacher in the North Texas State college here.

She, like the other unmarried ladies gathered here, admits she is an old maid. Last year she wondered aloud—and on the front page of many newspapers—why old maid's don't get some recognition. She pointed out they pay a lot of money for weddings, baby and anniversary gifts for the married folk but get no such gifts themselves.

Mayor Makes It Official

The upshot was a party on this day last year, and today is the second annual party and Old Maid's Day, by formal proclamation of the mayor.

One of the unmarried ladies, here today, Miss Bessie Brown of Denton, said why not give a helping hand to their brothers who also enjoy unmarried bliss?

"The public has failed to show appreciation to the bachelors in the public services they have rendered," declared Miss Brown, who says she is a career girl.

"Like old maids, the bachelors have to give wedding, birthday and Christening gifts but get few themselves. I don't think it would be amiss to let old maids clubs sponsor parties and invite the bachelors so everybody will know who is who."

No Status Change In Mind

If she had anything further on her mind, such as any change of status that might result, she wasn't saying.

A big cake was ready for this afternoon's first affair, a tea set for 2:30 p. m. (CST). There's enough cake for 200 old maids—more if the slices are cut thinner.

The Country Club tea, like other aspects of the celebration, was arranged by Denton civic officials—all married males. Also on the agenda was a theater party, and corsages for the spinsters.

Anti-Biotics Attack Livestock Parasites

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(AP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that outstanding gains have been made against livestock and poultry parasites through the use of anti-biotic drugs.

The Department states for example that a program, recommended by the Bureau of Animal Industry, has resulted in control of roundworms in sheep. The bureau advised sheep owners to mix a pound of the chemical, phenothiazine with every nine pounds of salt eaten by the flock. The medicine has proven a safe and effective worm remover and owners have reported that sheep treated with chemical have made satisfactory gains in weight. Similar experiments, including the administration of vitamin B-12 in diets of pigs and chickens have also been conducted with good results, the department says.

Defense Department Reveals Story of Treachery in OSS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—Defense department Wednesday accused two ex-servicemen of killing an officer of the cloak-and-dagger Office of Strategic Services in Italy in 1944.

Clayton Fritchey, public information officer, called a special news conference to give details of the bizarre story of alleged treachery by two men against a third who parachuted with them into Italy on a secret mission.

He identified the victim as Maj. William V. Holohan of the OSS, put to death by poisoning and shooting.

He named as the slayers former Lieut. Aldo Icardi, once of Pittsburgh but now employed in New York City, and former Sgt. Carl G. LoDolce of Rochester, N. Y.

Both Safe From US Law

Fritchey said both are now free in this country and can not be prosecuted under civil or military law.

But there is a possibility they could be extradited to Italy and tried by that country, he said. Frichey indicated that might be done.

A memorandum which Fritchey issued, and his replied to questions, gave this story:

Holohan was leader of an OSS party that was dropped on Mount Mottarone about 100 miles north of the battle line on Sept. 26, 1944. He was accompanied by Icardi and LoDolce, both Italian-speaking Americans.

Icardi Reported Disappearance

On Dec. 6, 1944, Icardi sent a radio message to OSS headquarters announcing the disappearance of Holohan. Later couriers from the group, then headed by Icardi, told headquarters the major had disappeared when the German-Fascist forces got wind of the group's operations.

In July, 1946, the memorandum said, Army investigators developed that Icardi had "apparently embezzled and converted to his own use" a considerable sum of money in gold currency originally taken in by the party.

And last year, the memorandum continued, the Italian police obtained "confessions" from two Italian Partisans attached to the Holohan mission.

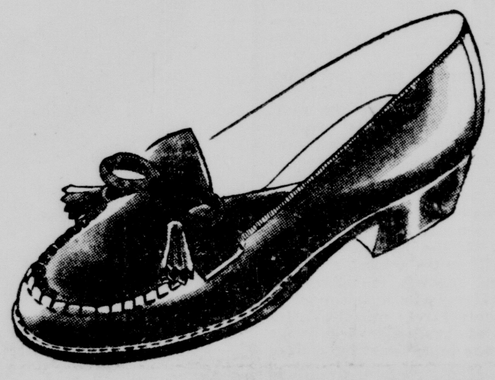

The two Italians, Guisseppi Mannini and Gualtiero Tozzini, were quoted as saying Holohan had first been fed cyanide potassium in his soup and then shot through the head by LoDolce.

Holohan's body was then tied up in a sleeping bag, weighted with stones, and dumped into Lake Orta, the purported confession said.

Fritchey said the two men could not be prosecuted by military courts because they had been separated from the Army after the death of Holohan.

The EMERALD CRESTED HOOPOE

by Gordon MacCreagh

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

X

MORE wearily than just the heat warranted, Alan Barton and Lucy Villiers walked all the way to the hotel. Nobody followed them. Nobody molested them. There was no need.

"Look," Alan said. "Add it up. Peter Vroom guessed we had a lead on the temple. So he bribed the young priests—the ones with the money—to watch. When our man found the hiding place of the emerald crested hoopoe they twisted it out of him and pinned him to the wall and they sit with blank faces and say it was some dragon god's penalty for snooping. The police will never find out any more than they did about any of the other killings on this same trail. If they do, it'll be too late. Vroom knows and he'll snatch it whenever Uncle Ho is ready."

They did not have to tell George Benoit. The four-sheet French newspaper had the swift follow-up of the monk's miracle killing. An outrage, it was headlined A desecration of a Buddhist temple that was revolting even to the Europeans of the whole colony. A ruffian gang of Ai-Quoks had scaled the walls with bamboo ladders, brutally beaten priests who opposed them, and wrenched out three of the silver tiers that held the offerings of the devout. They had been foiled in taking the Emerald Buddha himself only because the police came. Too late, of course, the item concluded cynically, to prevent the senseless vandalism as well as the theft of various images.

"Too late," Alan said bitterly, "to prevent bloody revolution."

"If we should tell the police everything we know about Vroom," Lucy began.

"What can we prove about Vroom?" Alan was stumped by the man's cleverness. "We can prove he grins like a cat, period. We can guess he has known about our every move and has tagged us all along. We can guess his strong arm gang has snatched the hoopoe and he's just waiting the word to raise the symbol of the prophesied freedom from French domination and start blood flowing. He'll be sitting up there in his teak camp, smiling like the cat that ate the hoopoe—" Alan let his tirade stop on a suddenly held breath. He held it for a long minute. "The teak camp!"

Lucy left his sleeve to catch at his whole arm. "Alan,"—she called him by his first name that meant more than just acquaintance. "You can't! You can't go up there with any crazy idea of—well, of doing anything all by your mad self."

Alan's hard, tight-lipped grin was beginning to form. "I won't be by myself. These Fang-duc jungle men. Why couldn't I hi-jack the sacred hoopoe before Vroom can ever get a soap box and start his revival meeting!"

Lucy's eyes closed on a horrid picture. She said. "I know nobody can do anything to stop you."

VROOM'S camp, it turned out, was some 14 miles up the river.

The Fang-duc men were more afraid to ride in a thing so unknown to them as a launch than to raid an unknown number of men in a teak camp. Some of them knew the site. The interpreter told Alan:

"There is a chacra house (a bungalow of split woven bamboo on high stilts) and many huts. When teak is worked coolies and an elephant live in the huts. Most times the rich ones live in house with drink and song. They have guns. All is four-five hundred meters from river. A creek runs just behind house to river, just enough big for float a teak log."

Alan had seen teak camps like that; though, the way he knew them, those who drank and sang lost their jobs fast. "Okay," he said. "Tell the men we want to surround the camp, and when they hear me shout they can begin to close in. If anybody starts shooting they shoot right back and don't be afraid if they hit white men."

Alan could creep up on a camp as well as any jungle man. In the early dimness he could make out the dark silhouette of the house amongst its trees, quite a big thing on its tall, above-mosquito-height poles it was much larger than any teak manager ought to need, more like a mission meeting house in the woods. Beyond it dim domes must be the huts. Alan didn't expect much trouble from them. Natives could stand amazingly aloof from white man quarrels, unless egged on by white men.

He couldn't see the depression of the creek just behind the house but he could smell it in the hot night air. It could float a teak log and also, apparently, all the sewage from the house. A dog barked furiously. Somebody came out of a hut and rewarded its faithful watch-keeping by throwing fire wood at it. It ki-yied away into querulous woofings. Nobody ever expected a raid on so innocent a camp.

Alan waited until the light was just good enough for his own men to see each other. Then he cupped hands to his mouth and called a long, "Hal-loo! Vroo-oom!"

HOWLER gibbons woke up in the far trees and shrieked, "Oo-oo-oo!" rising in their register like a siren. Alan heard a heaviness creaking upon the bamboo slats of a veranda. Vroom's voice shouted back from its black shadow.

Other creakings of men getting out of cots sounded. There seemed to be quite a gathering. Alan didn't advance. He yelled again: "It's me, Alan Barton."

He could almost feel the sudden tension in the house. Then Vroom's voice boomed, rather uncertainly: "So you come, then, to visit me, eh?" Stealthy sounds came.

"Not visit," Alan shouted. "I've come to kill you." And he moved behind a teak trunk.

Top Nationalist General Juggled Aid Money

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

By Jack Anderson and Fred Blumenthal

(Editor's Note—During Drew Pearson's absence in Europe his staff will contribute an occasional column from the capital city, Washington.)

WASHINGTON, August 15 — Even as Congress is considering another $307 million for Chiang Kai-shek, this column has uncovered shocking, documentary evidence about what has happened to the last $125 million he received from the American taxpayers. The indisputable fact is that huge sums have disappeared into private bank accounts, and additional, unnecessary fees have been skimmed off by a series of middlemen.

For example, this column has traced $444,706.53 right out of the taxpayers' pockets into the private account of a fictitious company. This money was supposed to pay for war surplus equipment, but was mysteriously transferred to the Lee Sun company's account in the National City Bank of New York. However, careful investigation indicates that the Lee Sun company is nothing more than a name in a bank book.

But here's the real shocker — the man who juggled these bank accounts is Chiang Kai-shek's top general, C. J. Chou. This same General Chou is also in charge of all military purchases for the Chinese Nationalists. In other words, of the $307 million proposed for Formosa, General Chou would direct the spending of $217 million earmarked as military aid.

The story of the juggled bank accounts goes back to July, 1946, when the United States sold surplus equipment located on the Philippines to the Chinese Nationalists. The price, which Chiang Kai-shek promised to pay, was $596,629.07. However, this was later scaled down to $444,706.53.

The contract called for payment to be made in U. S. dollars 'concurrently with the delivery." Accordingly the money was deposited in the Bank of China on Oct. 1, 1947. Yet General Chou kept haggling over minor details and delaying the payment for three years.

Overdue Payment

On November 16, 1948, the office of foreign liquidation fired a sharp letter to General Chou's negotiator in the Phillipines, Maj. David Hsiung, demanding: "We request that action be taken to reimburse this office in the amount of $444,706.53 as quickly as possible, since this amount has been outstanding since 1946."

This finally forced General Chou to kick through the long overdue payment. But the incredible fact is that Chou paid the debt, not from his earmarked Chinese funds from American aid money. Chou cabled the Chinese procurement office in Washington on March 23, 1949, ordering the $444,706.53 payment made out of the balance of American aid. In other words, Chou took money from the American taxpayers to pay the American taxpayers — a neat trick if you can get away with it.

This left the money that was originally appropriated to pay for the surplus equipment, still in the Bank of China. On October 18, 1949 General Chou signed five checks withdrawing this money. The checks were made out in the following amounts — $110,000; $100,000; $90,000; $80,000 and $76,926.02. All the checks were presented the same day, and were made payable to the Canton Trust company. This made a total of $456,926.02, which the Canton Trust company deposited in the National City Bank of New York to the credit of the ictitious Lee Sun company.

Strictly speaking this is embezzlement of Chinese government funds. However, the money came from American taxpayers, who actually put up the $444,706.53.

Most Americans are willing to aid anyone who wants to fight the Communists — as long as that aid doesn't end up in the pockets of corrupt leaders.

Note — In another case, the Chinese Nationalists went through three middlemen in an attempt to buy 2,956,170 gallons of aviation gasoline. Yet the Nationalists have a procurement office in Washington that could have made the same purchase much cheaper directly from the producer. The amazing angle is that one of the middlemen was a hole-in-the-wall Chinese grocery store in San Francisco's Chinatown, called the South China Enterprises, Inc. This store is worth only a few hundred dollars, yet stood to make a cool $100,000 profit on the deal. It looked suspiciously as if the grocery store may have been a front for someone else.

Washington Pipeline

John Dunlap, new boss of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has recommended the dismissal of four of his top aides — or covering up tax scandals. He has sent his recommendations to the White House. . . . A Petnagon team is en route to Korea to recover steel scrap from the battlefields. They expect to recover at least 250,000 tons — vitally needed to build more tanks, guns and airplanes to be used on other battlefields.

Patriotic Printer

Some U. S. newspapers have made spot checks recently to discover what the average citizen knows about America's two greatest documents — the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights. Without exception, these surveys revealed that adult Americans have either forgotten — or never knew — the language and meaning of either document.

As a result, a patriotic printer, August Dietz of Richmond, Va., decided to do what he could to re-acquaint the American people with their heritage. Dietz is now working on a scheme to bring a readable and artistic copy of the Declaration of Independence and the Bill o Rights into every class room and home throughout the nation. He's planning to turn out as many copies as necessary. He will sell them at slightly less than cost — in addition to donating his own time and printing equipment. The first copies will be ready by the middle of September, and may obtained directly from Gus Dietz in Richmond, Virginia. (The charge will be only five cents each in quantities of 100 or more.)

Dietz is working closely with Pat Regan, president of Sertoma Clubs International, who calls Dietz' project 'inspiring."

"It is gratifying to know," said Regan, "that our Richmond club in Virginia — the home state of Thomas Jefferson — wa sthe irst to pledge a copy to all of its local 32,000 school children."

The ruins of Herculaneum were discovered in 1719.

Here Are Some Situations Women Naturally Understand

Only another woman can understand:

That is is equally upsetting for a woman to have a drop-in guest find her house in disorder or an expected guest to show up after she has the whole house shining.

How frustrating it is to a woman to houseclean all day and have her husband walk in, look around and ask innocently: "What have you been doing all day?"

How a woman can get so much enjoyment out of "just looking" at things she has no intention of buying.

Why it is easier for a woman to face almost any kind of crisis if she has just had her hair done.

Why a woman always wonders, when she meets a man, if he is married and if he is, what his wife is like.

That the duller the evening, the more the women guests gush over what a wonderful time they had.

Why a woman looks so pleased when her husband mentions some flaw in another woman, even one as remote as a movie star.

Age Is Always A Burning Question

Why a woman is so interested in other women's ages.

Why the tone of feminine talk always changes abruptly and if by mutual consent the moment a man joins the group.

Why no woman can ever figure out to her entire satisfactin how a homely woman holds a man.

How a couple of wives can have such an enjoyable time tearing their husbands to pieces.

That when a married couple are being excessively polite to each other, chances are they have had a quarrel that hasn't been fought to the finish.

That when a woman asks "What do you think of so-and-so?" she doesn't want or expect approval. She is giving a go-ahead-sign—go ahead and tell me what you think is wrong with her and then I'll tell you.

• The Doctor Says—

Doctors Don't Say They 'Cure' Tuberculosis; it Can Return After Having Been Controlled

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The first question is rather complicated and hard to answer, but here goes.

Q—What chance has a person who has T. B. and one kidney out? Can he ever be definitely cured? What is meant when doctors say it is "checked"? Can you get it when you kiss a person who has had ". B.?

E. H. C.

A—In so far as possible a tuberculous kidney is removed only when the disease is absent or under control in other parts of the body—particularly the other kidney. Therefore, there is a good chance for the person who has had one kidney removed for tuberculosis. Doctors have a tendency to shy away from the word "cure" when speaking of tuberculosis since the disease can become active even after it has seemed to be under control for quite a long time. Such words as "checked," "arrested," or "quiescent" are often used instead to indicate that there are not active signs of the disease. Finally, one can only acquire tuberculosis from kissing if there are living germs on the lips. This comes when there is active tuberculosis of the lungs and the germs are brought up in the sputum.

Q—What is the food value, if any, of white bread? Is there any reason why I should develop an extraordinary appetite for bread that has been toasted almost to charcoal? W. G.

A—White bread and toast have a few calories made up principally of carbohydrate or starch, with small amounts of protein and fat. As for burnt toast, it is apparently a form of abnormal appetite or pica since it is hard to explain on the basis of any real food need.

Q—How many hours of sleep should children of 11 and eight have at night? Mrs. B. S.

A—Probably around nine or ten hours. If they are getting enough they should wake in the morning by themselves and be eager to start the day.

Q—What are the symptoms of house dust allergy? How are the tests given? What is the cure? D. P.

A—A running nose, sneezing, and other signs which resemble those of hay fever are the most common. Diagnosis is usually made by gathering a small amount of dust from the house in which the patient lives and bringing it to the doctor or laboratory. This is made up in a liquid and a small amount injected under the skin. If the patient is sensitive it will cause a local reaction. Treatment consists in moving to new quarters where the dust is absent (only rarely practical), injections of gradually increasing doses of the house dust extract, or oiling or some other treatment of the living quarters to lessen the amount of dust in the air.

Q—My son who is 12 has a funnel chest, but has been told he will be all right if he takes cod liver oil and chest exercises. Now he is starting in high school gym and my worry is how much danger there is if he is struck in the chest. Mrs. C. R.

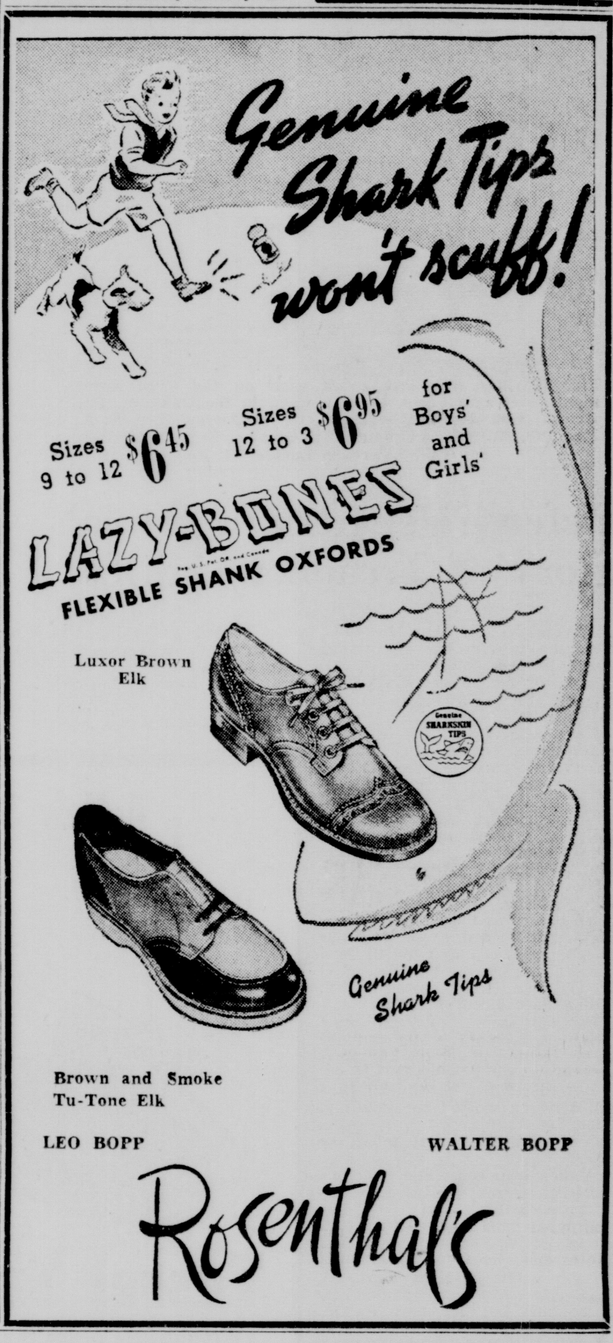

A—There is probably no more danger than there is to a boy with a normal chest.

Q—What causes an excessive amount of intestinal gas? M. E. C.

A—This is usually dietary. Beer or liquors produce this in some. Excessive coffee drinking is not an unusual cause. Some foods such as baked beans or cabbage are notorious.

SERVICE
in the American Tradition

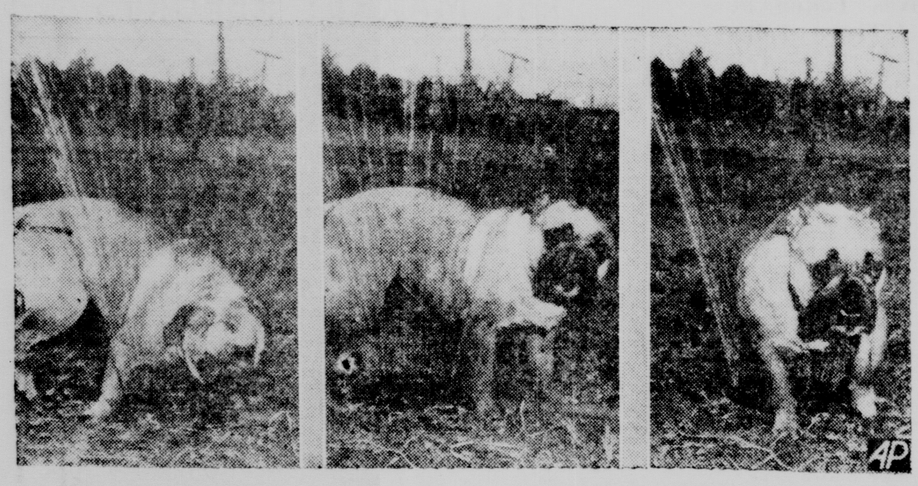

We Americans are used to convenience. Most everything is at our fingertips — electricity, water, gas, for example. Push a button, flick a switch, turn a tap and there it is, and we like it that way. To use, or not to use, no restrictions on quantity, quality or time of day or night.

All this is part of the heritage from our American system of free enterprise. It is, indeed, a privilege to carry on an enterprise under this system, and it is equally an obligation. The right to survival demands that a company give its very best to its customers to merit their approval and patronage. In other words, the service has just got to be good. We have come to expect it.

In this great tradition of free enterprise the Missouri Public Service Company was founded and carries on today. It is constantly aware of both its privileges and obligations to provide efficient utility service for its thousands of families in Western Missouri. In the American way, the Missouri Public Service Company is pledged to furnish finger-tip service to its customers at the prevailing reasonable rates.

This service is yours in the American tradition.

Cooling a Hot Dog

While Dallas, Tex., sizzles in the fourteenth day of temperatures at 100 degrees or better Chula has worked out her own system for cooling a bulldog on a scorching August day. She gets an over-all soaking from the lawn sprinkler by spraying one section at a time. The dog is the pet of Mrs. Amy Benson. Temperature in Dallas Aug. 13 was 105. The weatherman could predict no immediate relief. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'Miss Colorado' Abdicates Title

Blonde Marie Aber, 20, who won the title of Miss Colorado of 1951 Sunday night, resigned it Aug. 15. Her action came after a mysterious trip to New Mexico during which contest officials hunted her for 28 hours. She said she vanished because she feared she hadn't won the title "fair and square." The contest committee said she could keep the title but she resigned a few hours later. (AP Wirephoto)

Plenty Desire To Become Presdent

candidate and Senator Douglas (D-Ill) isn't either, so "who is left, besides you?"

Mr. Truman said he could not answer that. Then he added there are plenty of people ambitious for the job.

He was asked about a previous statement that Eisenhower would not be a candidate on the Democratic ticket. The reporter wanted to know if that was first hand information or just an assumption.

Mr. Truman replied he did not say that, but had said he did not think, with emphasis on think, that Eisenhower would be a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

He was told that Senator Douglas had promised to support him if he were a candidate and was asked whether he would welcome such support. He said he would if he were a candidate.

He laughed off with no comment another question about a radio remark by Douglas that Mr. Truman "is underneath the mistletoe in a position to be kissed," for another Democratic nomination.

The president declined comment on a series of questions about "McCarthyism," especially the statement by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that Communism in government would be an issue next year in the campaign.

Compliments Douglas

Asked to comment on a magazine poll in which Douglas was voted the "best senator" and McCarthy the "worst," Mr. Truman said a similar poll was conducted when he was in the Senate and it found him in the same position as the current poll on Douglas. He said he complimented Douglas on being in that position.

On other subjects, the president said:

The Philippines would be represented at the Japanese treaty ceremony and would sign both the treaty and a mutual defense pact announced today.

He said the pact and other defense alliances in the Pacific will have the same effect in that area as the North Atlantic Treaty has on this side of the world, at least that is the intention.

He is still studying personally the question of whether football is overemphasized at West Point.

American women can aid in the present emergency by supporting the defense program with everything they have.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Grace Teter Knight

Mrs. Grace Teter Knight, age 75, 1323 South Barrett, died at the Bothwell hospital at 10:00 a.m. today. She had been ill for several months.

She was the daughter of John and Henrietta Teter. She was born in LeRoy, Ill., on Sept. 1, 1875. On March 25, 1896 she was married to Harry S. Knight at Perdue, Ill., and moved to Missouri the same year.

At Perdue she was a member of the First Methodist church.

Her husband preceded her in death on Sept. 30, 1945. Survivors include one son, J. L. Knight, Hughesville, one daughter, Mrs. E. M. Green, Hughesville, three brothers, A. O. Teter, Sedalia, W. E. Teter, LaPlata, Mo., and Arthur Teter, Marshall. Four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p.m. Saturday at the Gillespie funeral home. The Rev. W. P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church will officiate.

Burial will be in the Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Kate Allen

Mrs. Mary Kate Allen, 76, died at her home west of Green Ridge, at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday, August 15th.

Mrs. Allen was born February 17, 1875, and was the daughter of the late Nathan and Judith Parker. Mrs. Allen spent her early life in the Roseland, Mo., community.

She was married to E. D. Allen September 11, 1901, at Windsor, Mo. They moved to the Green Ridge community 42 years ago.

To this union six children were born. She is survived by her husband and four children. Nine brothers and sisters preceding her in death. Her only brother, J. J. Parker, of Flat Rock, Mich., was at her bedside at the time of her death.

Surviving Mrs. Allen are her husband, E. D. Allen of the home, four children, George P. Allen of Longville, La., Mrs. Clarence E. Wells, of Sedalia, route 4, Mrs. Forrest Miller and Mrs. Ivan Green of Windsor, Mo. Two children preceded her in death. She is also survived by 14 grand children and one great grandson.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from her son.

The body was taken to the Ewing funeral home, where it will remain until Saturday morning, at which time it will be taken to the family home in the Green Ridge community.

Norman W. Anthony

Word has been received in Sedalia of the death of Norman W. Anthony, about 36, who was reported killed in a car-train accident at Kennewick, Wash., on Tuesday August 14. No further information was received by Lee Brandt, secretary of the Woodman of the World Camp No. 16, who received the notification telegram this afternoon.

Mr. Anthony was the son of Mrs. Libby Soderstrom and the late F. E. Anthony. He is survived by his mother with whom he he made his home, a brother, Eugene Anthony of the state of California, two sisters, Mrs. Leona Blaylock, wife of Clyde, of Kennewick, and Mrs. Ruth Ann Ellis, Las Vegas, Nev.

An aunt, Mrs. C. B. Butemeyer, 545 East 4th, also survives.

When in Sedalia the Anthony's resided at 1705 South Marvin.

The body will arrive in Sedalia, Sunday, August 19, according to the message received here. No arrangements have been made.

Mrs. Julia Ann Varner Services

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Ann Varner were held Saturday, August 11th at the La Monte Presbyterian church with Rev. Drake, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. H. A. Wood.

Burial was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in La Monte.

U. S. move to build up safeguards against possible Communist aggression in the Pacific. There is hope here for an eventual eastern defense arrangement to parallel the intended functions of the north Atlantic treaty in the west.

The "final" Japanese peace treaty text, drafted jointly by the U. S. and Britain, was made public yesterday. At the same time, its chief architect, U. S. ambassador John Foster Dulles, predicted failure for any Russian effort to wreck the peace conference.

"War of Nerves"

And Dulles reported for the first time officially that Soviet Communists have been conducting a war-of-nerves against the treaty and "even suggesting that it may be countered by their violence." He did not expand on this point.

But he declared in a radio speech (CBS) that so many World War II allies will sign the treaty "that there will be no doubt in any quarter as to either the fact of peace or as to the terms of peace." Dulles expressed hope that Russia's four representatives to the treaty-signing session would not turn out to be "a wrecking crew" which would try to "demolish a structure of Japanese peace which has been built carefully and soundly."

Although China was an enemy of Japan in World War II, no Chinese representatives have been invited to the treaty signing. This results from an agreement between the U. S. which recognizes the Chinese nationalist government, and Great Britain, which has recognized the Communist regime.

Opposed by Red China

Red China moved yesterday to reject the proposed treaty and to promote separate negotiations between itself and the states that fought Japan.

Peiping radio broadcast a 6,000-word statement by Red premier Chou En-Lai saying that with the Chinese Communists excluded from the San Francisco conference they would consider the treaty "illegal and therefore null and void."

Chou charged that the conference was being convened under "compulsion" of the United States "and its satellites."

Chambers in Testimony as To The IPR

weeks ago pending a hearing on charges before the department's loyalty and security board. The nature of the charges has not been disclosed.

Acknowleding that his memory might be faulty on the details, Chambers said he had "the impression" that the message Clubb had was from Agnes Smedley, named recently as a Soviet spy by Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, former U. S. intelligence chief in the Far East.

Chambers said he also had the recollection that the message was intended for Grace Hutchins. He described her as an acknowledged Communist party member who several times has run for office on the Communist ticket.

Like Sedalia After Long Absence

Mrs. J. E. Peterson of Tacoma, Wash., the former Mrs. Iva Hall, who was employed by the Lamy Manufacturing Co., some 33 years ago, and Mrs. Lee Leckey who moved to Tacoma in 1912 returned this afternoon, "just to see how the old town looked."

Neither of the women had visited in Sedalia after they moved to Washington, one in 1917 and the other in 1912, and they said that they would not have recognized Sedalia, but they thought it looked very nice. They said that some of the same stores were still operating, but outside of that most everything had changed.

Mrs. Peterson was accompanied to Sedalia by her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Keaume of Kansas City who when she lived in Sedalia was Beatrice Hill. Another friend of Kansas City, Mrs. Ray Francis, who is the former Nell Boyd, also accompanied them.

Plane Wreck on Bleak Island

KODIAK, Alaska, Aug. 16—(AP)—A search plane found the wreckage of a navy patrol bomber on bleak Amak island yesterday but no survivors or bodies of the 12 men aboard were sighted.

The U. S. navy ship Tillamook was dispatched to the island off the Alaska peninsula. The Tillamook was scheduled to arrive at 4 p. m. today (9 p. m. CST).

The four-engined PB4-Y2 vanished last Sunday with a crew of three officers and nine enlisted men on a routine operations flight from its Kodiak base. Its last position report was near Port Hieiden on the north side of the Alaska peninsula and nearly 200 miles northeast of Amak.

The big plane apparently exploded as it crashed. The ground was seared for more than 100 feet on each side. The search pilot who found the wreckage near the 1000-foot level of Amak's mountains identified it from a 10-foot section of the left wing, tipped in blue with a white star.

The possibility of finding survivors was considered remote.

Girl Scouts took money in street booths the Sunday after the fire. Out-of-towners curious to see the ruins contributed. Girls jotted down the name of a Chicagoan who gave $5. He was so impressed a few days later by a thank you note that he sent back $100. A Terre Haute, Ind., man got like thanks for his small gift. He promptly telegraphed a considerably larger amount.

After that, thanks were mailed to all giving $1 or more.

Effingham citizens dug deeply into their own purses.

Yesterday afternoon, in a quiet ceremony the first ground was broken for the larger (150 beds) St. Anthony's Memorial hospital. Completion was expected in 1953.

Signs Bill To Bring In Mexican Farm Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation providing funds for the labor department to start bringing Mexican farm workers into this country to relieve labor shortages in the southwest.

Te resolution conforms with a recent agreement between the Mexican Republic.

yors in pressing for its quick enactment.

It also authorized appointment of a seven-member executive committee to work with a similar group named in Kansas yesterday.

The 20-member Missouri committee was appointed by the governor at Howse's request. It elected Dr. Buford G. Hamilton, head of the state health division, as chairman and Robert T. Thornburg, state agricultural commissioner, vice chairman. James C. Kirkpatrick, the governor's public relations secretary, was appointed secretary.

Allocation For Relief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—An allocation of $1,750,000 for disaster relief in flood-hit Kansas and Missouri has been made by President Truman.

A letter to Raymond Foley, administrator of the housing and home finance agency, wh ois handling disaster relief, did not indicate specifically where the funds will be used.

Two Killed in Blast of Tanks

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16—(AP)—An exploding chain of fuel storage tanks killed two men and injured 13 others today and spewed a towering cloud of smoke and fire at the Esso Standard Oil refinery here.

An empty naphtha tank, opened for cleaning, blew up, setting off the instantaneous blast that ruptured and burned more than five of the tanks in the plant. The sprawling 1,100-acre refinery is in the Mississippi river banks on the north side of the city.

Esso general plant manager H. J. Voorhies estimated the damage at $300,000.

The dead were identified by Esso officials and the families as Alfred Perry, 42-year-old acid plant worker and J. E. Carmena, 29, an acid plant helper.

The blast rocked Baton Rouge and witnesses said house and store windows were shattered in a three mile area, including some business district windows.

A thick tower of black smoke soared from a fiercely burning area of five or six gasoline storage tanks at the naptha treating plant.

Plant officials were unable to give the cause of the explosion.

Most of the burning tanks were demolished. Esso firemen were fighting the fuel-fed flames. Several raidroad freight cars were reported turned over by the blast or near-by tracks.

Plant officials of the naptha plant is a complex system of tanks and agitators that purify gasoline with chemicals.

The Esso plant hospital reported eight injured, three seriously. Three more were taken to Our Lady of the Lake sanitarium and two to the Baton Rouge general hospital.

Walkout at a Ford Plant

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16—(AP)—Production was halted at the Ford Motor company's Lincoln-Mercury plant at suburban Robertson today by a surprise walkout of some 1,700 employes.

A company spokesman said the stoppage was not authorized by the United Auto Workers local 325, which represents the workers. He added that company and union officials were meeting to discuss the walkout.

Cause of the stoppage was not immediately learned.

It started this morning in the trim department and spread rapidly to other sections of the big plant.

Zwillman as The 'Kingpin' Bootlegger

obtained liquor from Canada and Europe and brought it down to "rum row" of Sandy Hook, N. J.

The former treasury agent testified that the syndicate sent large amounts of money and gold out of the country. He said this was in case "it became too hot and they had to flee."

Baldwin said he did not know how much Zwillman actually got out of the operations in money "but I know he was the main contender."

He added that treasury agents accounted for at least $50,000,000 made by the syndicate and that there was probably much more not found.

The committee, after writing another chapter about William O'Dwyer into its records, turned today to gangster influences in the northern New Jersey area adjacent to New York City.

Propose a New Bridge at Capital

OSAGE BEACH, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—A new Missouri river bridge at Jefferson City was urged by the state branch of the U.S. highway 54 association here yesterday.

A resolution called on the highway commission to replace the present "outdated and inadequate" structure.

Harold Martin of Osage Beach was elected president succeeding George Van Osdoll of Jefferson City. Jack Farmer of Camdenton was chosen vice president and J. D. Stotler of Camdenton, secretary-treasurer.

Vivian Truman at News Conference

Mutineers Tell Of Slave Camp

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 16—(AP)—Polish mutineers who escaped their Communist ruled country declared today that "Russia has turned the whole country into a gigantic slave camp where life is unbearable for anybody but Communists."

Two of the mutineers—the 12 were granted political asylum by Sweden—met reporters and gave a grim picture of life in their homeland under what they called the "iron grip" of the U. S. S. R. Poland has demanded that Sweden hand over the 12 sailors, who mutinied aboard a minesweeper and brought the craft to a Swedish port Aug. 2. The 12 now move about here with special escorts for fear of their being kidnaped by Polish Communist agents.

Ignacy Hazel, 21, and Hendrix Skorupka, 22, two of the leaders of the 12 mutineers, said in a statement to reporters:

"We staged the mutiny because we wanted under no circumstances to fight the West on Russia's side. There are more like us in Poland. Our feelings are shared by most enlisted men and by many officers. We will not carry arms against the West."

The Communists "have their spies everywhere" in Poland, they said.

There is a Russian in every key position who more often than not has no knowledge of the Polish language. The Polish navy is infested with them. It is Polish in name only.

"At the head of our navy stands the Russian admiral, Viktor Cherekov, who does not speak Polish. At his side are two other Russians who do—Cmdr. Josef Szegalovski and the politruk (political leader of the navy, Urganovicz. x x x

Arrest on Death Of a Dentist

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—The Missouri highway patrol said Dean E. Shorter, 57, was arrested near here yesterday in connection of the slaving of Dr. William Henry Brockman, 56, Eldon, Mo., dentist.

Capt. C. E. Potts of the patrol said Shorter admitted that he and the doctor engaged in a fight Tuesday night over Shorter's wife.

Dr. Brockman was found fatally beaten in his home where officers said splattered blood indicated "a terrific struggle."

Shorter, a route salesman for a grocery firm, is being held at Tuscumbia, Potts said. No charges have been filed.

not identified and the doctor giving the injections.

"When it was discovered that Clifford and Mrs. Pearson had been injected with the wrong sedative drug, the experiment was halted and they were rushed to a hospital," Dr. Slaughter said. "Doctors administered all known antidotes, and I consulted an expert on this drug in an eastern state."

In addition to being dean of the university medical school, Dr. Slaughter is professor of pharmacology and chairman of the department of physiology and pharmacology.

After a preliminary post mortem last night, Coroner Myron Iverson took vital organs of the two victims to Sioux City, Iowa for pathological analysis. He said an inquest would be held here after results of that examination are published.

Roy Milliken, chief agent of the attorney general's law enforcement division, was expected in Vermillion today to head up the state's inquiry. Martin Weeks, Jr., Clay county state's attorney, said his office was studying available evidence but would not act until after the inquest.

Clark Gunderson, attorney serving as legal adviser to the college, said:

"All evidence pertinent to the inquiry has been collected and will be made available at the call of the authorities. Names of the researcher, or researchers, involved will not be made public until the inquest."

Treatment For Asthma

MILFORD, Conn., Aug. 16—(AP)—The mother-in-law of one of the two "human guinea pigs" who died taking drug injections at the University of South Dakota reported today the fatal experiment concerned a treatment for asthma.

Mrs. Edward Dunn said she obtained that information in a telephone conversation with her son, Everett W. Pearson, Jr.

Pearson's 26-year-old wife, Ardys, a secretary at the university, was one of the two who died.

Federal Aid For State Sanitorium

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The U.S. Public Health Service has set aside $180,000 for use on a proposed $360,000 project at the Missouri State sanatorium, Mt. Vernon, Mo.

The project includes a 62-bed addition, alterations, and new equipment for the nurses home.

The federal allocation will become available when Missouri provides approved plans and furnishes its share of the funds.

Bradley Sworn in For Second Term

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—General of the Army Omar N. Bradley was sworn in today for his second two-year term as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

At another Pentagon ceremony, Adm. William M. Flechteler was sworn as chief of naval operations. More than 100 other high ranking military men were present.

New Slant In Moves Taken at The Truce Talks

55-minute session Thursday—the shortest meeting since talks started July 10.

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, proposed two delegates from each side instead of one as Joy had suggested.

The U.N. accepted.

The change permitted Nam Il to name both a Red Korean and a Chinese general to the subcommittee. He appointed North Korean Maj. Gen Lee Song Cho and Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang.

Joy named only one of his delegates immediately — Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, deputy chief of staff of the U.S. 8th army.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, said the other will be named Friday.

Consider Buffer Zone

The subcommittee's job will be to recommend location of a military demarcation line and a buffer zone separating opposing armies for the duration of the armistice.

In formal sessions neither side moved from its original position, although Joy said the U.N. would consider modifications in the line it recommended.

The U.N. proposal calls for a buffer zone along present battle lines. The Communists have insisted on making the 38th parallel the demarcation line. Most of the battle front now runs north of this old political boundary.

A U.N. communique said Nam Il accepted Joy's suggestion of a subcommittee "meeting around, rather than across the table." The admiral said this would get away from one of the major impediments—formal speech-making.

Nam Il made one of these speeches in accepting Joy's proposal. It took 51 minutes.

Nuckols said most of the speech was devoted to denying Allied claims on the effectiveness of its dominant naval and air power. This had been the subject of debate in the two preceding sessions.

He wound up the speech by agreeing to the subcommittee suggestion.

Joy called for a 30 minute recess. After the recess the admiral agreed to a subcommittee consisting of two delegates from each side aided by one staff assistant and one interpreter each.

Hot Reception To Connie Mack

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 16—(AP)—The semi-pros gave baseball's Connie Mack a warm reception today.

The excitement followed a news conference. Press and radio men had barely left the hotel room when someone discovered the window drapes on fire.

Before the smoke and flames were battered down by the excited handfull still in the room, the blaze spread to the rug.

Ruefully, Ray Dumont, president of the host national baseball congress, guessed "it was my cigar."

In the excitement, Dumont confessed, he laid it down somewhere near the window.

Mack is here for the opening of the national semi-pro baseball playoffs.

MacArthur Have Chance to Speak

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—President Truman said today Gen. Douglas MacArthur can address the Japanese peace treaty conference at San Francisco if he wants to.

The President told a news conference he did not know, however, whether the general had been invited to the treaty conference.

He said he had no objections if the State Department has invited MacArthur.

It is understood that in fact State Department officials, with advance White House approval, have approached MacArthur with a suggestion that he participate in the treaty conference to be held Sept. 4-8.

MacArthur, who ran the allied occupation in Japan for more than five years until President Truman fired him from all his Far Eastern commands last April, is said by authorities here to have first accepted them, on second thought, rejected the invitation.

Officially, the State Department would say nothing about the matter. And in New York, an aide to MacArthur said that "as far as I know" MacArthur has received no official invitation.

Travel Together on 'Freedom Road'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—President Truman told a group of 118 English, French, and Canadian school teachers today their people and the American people must "travel along together on the road to freedom."

The aim of their governments, he declared, is to make the world "a free place in which to live."

The teachers will serve for a year in American schools under a teacher-exchange program designed to create better understanding among the different nations.

Slays Guard, Escaped From Prison

Harry Williams (left) 25, prisoner under death sentence, slugged and killed George Turley, 43, a tower guard at Cook county, Ill., jail Aug. 14 and escaped over a wall. Warden Philip Scanlon said the 20-year-old Negro escaped from the death row of the jail by removing a plate from top of his cell, ran across the roof to the guard tower, slugged the guard and dropped to the ground over a wall. Navy Now in Need of Dentists

According to a recent announcement by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, the Navy desires qualified dentists for active duty as commissioned officers in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Lieutenant Commander C .B. Hawley, Jr., Officer in Charge of the Cincinnati Office of Naval Officer Procurement, states that those dentists between the age of 21 and 48, licensed to practice, and classified Priority 1 by Selective Service, are eligible to apply. The license requirments may be waived for candidates who, because of recent graduation from dental school, have not had the opportunity to obtain a license.

Men selected for commissions in the Dental Corps, USNR, will be appointed in grades determined by their ages and professional qualifications, and will be ordered to immediate active duty. All men commissioned under this program will receive additional pay in the amount of $100.00 per month as authorized by the Career Compensation Act of 1949.

Information can be obtained from and U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, or by contacting the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Post Office Building, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Mantle Bangs Ball at an Amazing Pace

Farmhand of the Yankees Going Strong With Blues

By Frank Crawford

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 16—(AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' fabulous farmhand, is busting the ball almost too well to suit some Kansas City baseball fans.

They keep their fingers crossed as the 19-year-old Oklahoma kid's batting average in the American Association soars toward the 370 mark and hope Casey Stengel won't decide he needs the youngster for the Yankees' pennant drive.

Manager George Selkirk of the Kansas City Blues discounts the possibiliy the Yankees will call up Mantle again this season but he says the fleet turn-around slugger is improving with every game.

"He's shown a world of improvement at the plate since he reported in Milwaukee June 16," says Selkirk, "and while he gets fooled by some drives, he is learning how to cover center field, too."

Just how much Mickey's hitting has improved is shown graphically by a look at the records. In the first four games with the Blues he hit .188 and when they left for an eastern road trip on July 23 the husky had boosted his average to only .278. He hadn't hit a home run and some Blue fans, none too happy because the Yanks had taken away Bob Cerv, their favorite fence buster, were beginning to baa whenever Matlne popped up or struck out.

But Mantle exploded on the road, banging the ball from both sides of thep late, using his speed to take extra bases or beat out infield hits.

At Toledo, on the last day of July he gave an exhibition of hitting that even Cerv never equalled in a single game. He hit two home runs, a triple, a two-batter and, just for dressing, beat out a bunt for a single in five times at bat.

Since the Blues have returned home, Mantle has been more consistant. He has hit four home runs in the last five games and driven in 12 runs.

Here is his record to date:

G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	RBI	Avg.
86	150	29	55	8	3	10	38	.367

Selkirk isn't making any predictions about Hantle's future wih the Yankees. He doesn't say Mickey eventuall ywill make New Yorkers forget Joe DiMaggio. But he saws the youngster has done a great job for the Blues in the month he has been with the club.

"He has done everything we've asked of him and mode. He listens and learns and produces. What more can you ask of the boy?" George wants to know.

Some of the ryetaoinuetaoinue

Some experts believe Mantle should forget about batting left handed against right handed pitching and hit exclusively from the right side.

"Maybe he hits better right handed," Selkirk concedes, "but did you see that drive he he hit lefthanded Sunday in the second game against Louisville?"

We did. It hit high on the fence aymost in dead center field where there is a sign that carries this legend:

"420 feet."

Indians Take 13th Straight

Pirates Give the Cardinals a 7-0 Shutout

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nothing and nobody is halting the Cleveland Indians' mad dash to the pennant these days.

Yesterday seemed the ideal day for it. It looked like the right time to stop the runaway Redskins. All signs pointed to it.

The Indians were gunning for their 13th straight victory. Opposing them were the pesky St. Louis Browns who knocked them out of the 1950 flag race about a year ago this time with four straight lickings. On the hill was was Ned Garver, who already had whipped them twice without a setback this season. And by manager Al Lopez' own admission, the Indians were "tired and worried."

But the fighting first placers overcame all these obstacles—in a mighty seven-run first inning—to batter Garver like he was a second rater, blast the Brownies, 9-4, win their 13th straight, and protect their two and a half game margin over the New York Yankees.

Al Rosen's fourth grand slammer of the season, which equalled a major league mark, featured the first inning attack on Garver. It was Rosen's 21st homer.

The runner-up of Yankees took an 8-5 decision in Washington; Boston's third place Red Sox remained five and a half games out by beating the Athletics, 4-2, in Philadelphia, and Chicago's fourth place White Sox shut out the Tigers in Detroit, 2-0.

New York's second place Giants took their second straight from Brooklyn, 3-1, to whittle the national league leaders' margin to 10 ½ games. Boston's Braves handed the Philadelphia Phillies their fifth straight loss with a 9-0 victory. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh also scored shutouts wins, the Pirates blanking the St. Louis Cards, 7-0, and the Reds shading the Chicago Cubs, 1-0.

The Indians wrapped up the victory before Garver could retire a batter. They had five runs in when Harry Simpson fanned for the first out.

Yogi Berra and Joe Collins each each slammed out four hits to lead the Yankees' 15-hit attack against five Washington pitchers.

Wes Westrum and Willie Mays teamed up offensively and defensively to give the Giants their victory over Brooklyn. Westrum's 16th homer followed a single by Mays in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and give Jim Hearn his 11th victory and first over the Dodgers as a Giant.

Ralph Kiner blasted his 32nd homer as rookie Bob Friend shut out the Cards with two hits.

Apprentice Jockey Rides Winners

FAIRMOUNT PARK, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—Leon Grandsart, 17-year old apprentice jockey of Chicago, put on a great riding show last night by bringing home five winners.

Grandsart won the first race on Ace O'Day, a long shot. He followed in the fourth, fifth and sixth races with Erby D., Sky Heels and In Class respectively.

In the eighth race he piloted the fifth horse, Miss Pin Up, home in front.

Grandsart rode the first winner of his brief career in the spring meeting here. In the current fall meeting he is leading jockey with 13 winners in nine days of racing.

Doesn't Like Idea Of Bill Veeck's

PHILADELPHIA Aug. 16—(AP)—Bill Veeck's plan to let "the fans" manage the St. Louis Browns in their American league game with the Philadelphia Athletics Aug. 24 in St. Louis is described as "farcial" by A's general manager Art Ehlers.

"I'll protest," said Ehlers. "The use of grandstand managers . . . certainly has no place in the majors."

Veeck, who is president of the St. Louis club, has announced that fans will vote on managers and coaches to replace Skipper Zach Taylor an dhis staff.

"I have no objection to sideshows, fireworks, orchids for the ladies or even door prizes for the fans,"" Ehlers said angrily yesterday. "But the ball game has to come first. If this idea goes through, I'll protest to the American league. In fact, I think I'll write Will Harridge (American league president) a letter about it anyway."

In St. Louis Veeck scoffed at Ehler's remarks, denied the game would be a farce, said the fans know a lot about baseball, and declared Ehlers was just scared the grandstand experts would outsmart the experts.

Ehlers said the fans are entitled "to our best efforts and should not be subjected to antics such as some barnstorming tea mmight put on for laughs."

Louis Says 'No Fight Again Underweight'

Louis Wins at Baltimore Over Jimmy Bivins

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16—(AP)—Joe Louis vowed today that he wouldn't ever fight "underweight" again.

Whether it be Rocky Mariano or Ezzard Charles next on his hit parade, the Brown Bomber will come in as close as he can get to 208 pounds.

He blamed last night's weight of 203 ½, lowest for him in 10 years, for a disappointing although unanimous 10-round victory over Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland.

"I didn't improve none tonight," he said disgustedly.

He was downhearted mostly at his failure to deck Bivins in the last round when he hit the 180 ¼-pounder with everything he had. Bivins was still hanging on to him at the end and Louis' deadpan for once showed disbelief—or perhaps realization the deadliness has gone with his 37 years.

The last minute flurry was the most savage of the fight which otherwise followed a dull pattern. Louis jabbed and jabbed and Bivins ran and ran.

The crowd of 18,215 which paid $75,217 pleaded time and time again "Joe, open him up." But Louis was able to get only a half a dozen telling blows from that once-feared right and never could he follow through.

"I was just too light to get that right hand over," explained Louis later. "No question about it, I was five pounds too light."

Bivins puffed up Louis's left eye early in the fight but his spasmodic hit and run tactics took little advantage of it. The only other mark on either fighter was a slight cut over the left eye of Bivins.

After it was all over, Louis thought Bivins was the best fighter of his eight comeback partners. But he agreed it wasn't his best fight.

The 31-year-old Bivins put his finger on the affair when he said Louis was in better physical condition than three years ago when they fought an exhibition "but not as sharp."

Several times during the fight when he shook up Bivins or had him trapped on the ropes the Brown Bomber failed to release the old stabilizer. At times, even Bivins looked surprised the lighting didn't strike.

Several days after the cornerstane was laid in Saint Francis Cathedral in Santa Fe, N. M., in 1869, it disappeared and has never been heard of since.

May Have an 'Any Deer' Season

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16—(AP)—The odds now are about 10 to 1 that Missouri will have its first legal "any deer" season this fall.

That means a hunter can shoot any deer for the season, either a buck or a doe. In the past the legal kill has been limited to bucks.

At this point, you probably could not find anyone around the state conservation commission who would say flatly there will be a chance so does can be hunted.

In fact, final commission action on the question isn't expected until the September meeting. At the same time, the dates for the 1951 deer season will be set.

In all probability the new "any deer" regulation won't apply to all the counties in which deer can be hunted. Does will be legal game only in the areas where the deer herd has grown so large the forage supply is endangered — or where the deer are beginning to take more than a passing interest in the farmers' field crops.

Missouri's deer herd — chiefly centered in the Ozark counties of the south and east — numbers well over 30,000 officially now. And the commission's deer census takers have always been reluctant to over estimate.

The big whitetail comeback in Missouri is a miracle of game management. Back in the middle 1930s, the deer population was way down, estimated at around 2,500. For nearly ten years the season on deer was closed. But the commission made buck deer legal game again in 1944. Since then the hunting area and the length of the season have slowly grown.

Last year some 20,000 hunters stalked through the 25 county hunting area, bagging a few more than 1,400 legal bucks.

Go to Bat For Babe Ruth Day

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(AP)—Baseball has not forgotten the man who came to its rescue in its darkest days.

So today, to keep the memory of the immortal Babe Ruth forever green, the foundation bearing his name is observing a memorial day throughout the nation.

Governors of 15 or more states have issued official proclamations designating today as "Let's go to bat for The Babe" day.

Play in all major league parks will pause for a moment of silence to honor the greatest home run slugger of them all.

A two and a half hour television program and a nationwide radio broadcast will be devoted to the observance of Babe Ruth Memorial Day.

Calumet Filly Pulls Big Upset

CHICAGO, Aug. 16—(AP)—In a stunning upset, Calumet Farm's A Gleam Wednesday triumphed over the hitherto undefeated Princess Lygia by six lengths in the $58,755 Princess Pat stakes for two-year-old fillie sat Washington Park.

The Calumet filly, scoring her second victory in four starts, picked up $47,620 to add to her former slim bankroll of $3,600.

Princess Lygia, victorious in five previous races, including four stake events, was purchased only yesterday for $100,000 by Louis B. Mayer, Hollywood movie producer. Her first outing in the Mayer silks saw her suffer her first defeat.

Set 5 Records In Irish Meet

BELFAST, August 16 — (AP) — American athletes smashed five Irish records and equalled another in an international track and field handicap meet last night.

Two of the records fell to big Jim Fuchs of the New York A. C. in the shot put and discus. Herb McKenley of Jamaica hung up another in the 440-yard run. Bob Chambers of Los Angeles established a new standard in the half-mile and Charley Capozzoli of Georgetown set up a new mark in the three-mile run.

Charles Thomas of San Antonio, Tex., matched the Irish record of :09.8 for 100 yards set last year by the American Olympic champion, Harrison Dillard.

Captured After Chase

An officer stands guard over two of three Illinois men charged with attempted robbery of a Fountain Run, Ky., bank August 14. The trio was captured at LaFayette, Tenn., after their car and a car of pursuing officers wrecked in separate accidents within sight of each other. On the ground (front to rear) are Howard William Graham and Curtis Stewart, Illinois prison fugitives. (AP WIREPHOTO)

American Designer Honored By British

LONDON—(AP)—Walter D. Teague, Annandale, N. J., has been given the distinction of Honorary R. D. I. (royal designer for industry) by the British Royal Society of Arts.

Teague, internationally recognized as a leading industrial designer, is consultant designer to a number of U. S. firms, including the American President Lines, Boeing Aircraft, Goodyear, and Ford Motors.

The title of R. D. I. was created by the Royal Society of Arts in 1936 to honor people distinguished in the field of industrial design.

For "Frustrated" Writers

BALTIMORE—(AP)—What's the word for the anatomical spot where a lady's skirt is the tightest?

"I've got the word (it's 'callipygian') right on the tip of my tongue but can't recall it."

Like all of us, Dr. J. E. Schmidt has been stuck in this situation. The dictionary is little, if any, help. If you know the word you don't have to look it up except for spelling. Dr. Schmidt got vexed enough to do something about it.

He started a filing system of cards neatly arranged alphabetically—by meaning instead of spelling. For instance: Ape, cry of—gibber: beetle, sound of—drone.

Dr. Schmidt, a physician, has 140,000 such words or meanings and is going to publish them in a book titled "What's the Word" for frustrated writers.

2 Explosions Rock Wichita

No Clues Found To Strong Blast Heard Over City

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 16—(AP)—An explosion—some who heard it said there were two close-spaced explosions apparently high in the air—shocked this midwest city of 200,000 at 5:08 p. m. Wednesday.

The police department, sheriff's office and fire department said they had no clues—just excited calls from hundreds of inquiriers. Calls swamped newspaper switchboards, too.

The state highway patrol reported the explosions heard at its station north of the city—but also no clues.

The public information officer at the Wichita Air Force base—a jet crew training base—said a quick check found all planes attached to the base—T-33 trainers and B-47 bombers—accounted for.

All B-47s Safe

Similar reports came from the Air Force B-47 Stratojet bomber testing project, and the Boeing airplane company sources said each had two B-47s in the air at the time. All four were reported safe.

The CAA communications station at the airport said it also had no clues to the blast, heard in the tower at the airport.

Wichians reported office buildings and homes jarred by the shock or shocks. Those outdoors said nothing was visible in the air.

'Definitely Not A Plane'

"It definitely was not a plane—commercial or military—that we know anything about," said Capt. Carl Kosanke, air base information officer.

The report covers the air base, WIBAC—the Air Force B-47 test project—Boeing and the airport, he said.

Kosanke said he heard two blasts, and there "definitely was an explosion."

In his experience an air shock from a high speed jet plane leveling off at high altitude "doesn't sound like that," he added.

Similar occurrences at other points have ended with such "air shock" explanations.

The security officer at WIBAC said he had "no information."

Murder Charge Filed Against A Young Boy

CAMDENTON, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—A nine-year-old youngster who shot his foster mother to death Tuesday with a 22-caliber rifle was charged today with murder as juvenile delinquent, Camden county Sheriff E. L. Libby said tonight.

A coroner's jury decided today Charles Baughman, 9, killed Mrs. Everett Ray, 54, yesterday.

The woman was killed at her farm home near Cable Ridge, 35 miles northwest of here. Charles said he got into his foster mother's cosmetics, and she whipped him with a strap.

If convicted as a juvenile delinquent he can be sent to a state training school for an indefinite term.

Rockefeller and Bride

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the former Mrs. Martha Baird Allen (both above) were married at the bride's Providence, R.I. home Aug. 15. The millionaire groom is 77 years old and the bride is 56. She is a former concert pianist. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Emergency Drinking Water From Swimming Pools

DENVER—(AP)—If Denver is the target of atomic or germ warfare, its 425,000 residents may find themselves drinking from swimming pools.

City officials are completing plans to utilize the pumps and filters of the 13 public and private pools to provide purified water. The pools can clean of contamination and pump more than 4,500,000 gallons a day. That's 11.2 gallons for every man, woman and child—ample for drinking, cooking and medical care, at least.

If the water mains themselves are knocked out, the water in the pools scattered throughout the city would provide an emergency reservoir of 1,500,000 gallons, or 3.6 gallons a person.

Nebraska Youth Drowns In Lake Of The Ozarks

CAMDENTON, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—Dale C. Thompson, 18, Bloomington, Neb., drowned in the Lake of the Ozarks Wednesday while on an outing with nine other Nebraska vocational agriculture youths.

G. T. Richards of the Camdenton Reveille, said Thompson stepped into a deep hole when he and several others left their boat to wade ashore.

Land plants, amphibians and reptiles came into existence in the latter part of the Paleozoic era of geology.

The first known mention of coffee was in an Arabian medical encyclopedia about 850 A. D.

PB4-Y Wreckage Found By Navy Search Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 16—(AP)—The Alaska command reported late Wednesday the sighting of the wreckage of a 4-engine Navy patrol bomber 26 miles north of Cold Bay on Amak Island in the Bering sea.

A PB4-Y-2 Privateer bomber vanished Sunday with 12 aboard on a routine operations mission from Kodiak toward Adak Island in the mid-Aleutians.

A Navy Lieutenant Zacharian, flying a PBY search plane, said he spotted the wreckage at the 800-foot level, where it had burned out an area 150 to 200 feet in diameter.

He reported sighting no bodies or survivors near the wreckage.

He said a bail-out could have been possible but not probable.

PICTURE OF COURAGE—With a cork-tipped brush handle gripped tightly between her teeth, Jane Norton, 28, of Cleveland, O., paints a masterpiece of courage and will power on a canvas above her head. Completely confined to the iron lung up to her neck for more than four years by an arterial ailment, Jane keeps busy reading, playing cards, listening to music and visiting with friends and strangers, in addition to turning out her oil paintings done in "Van Gogh daubs." For a while she tried painting with water colors, but gave it up because "I had to have too many turpentine baths."

Voices From the Sky

OTTAWA—(AP)—If you are in the quiet solitude of the Ontario outdoors this summer and suduenly hear a voice from the sky, don't get panicky and head for the nearest psychiatrist. Instead, sit quietly and listen to what it is saying. The chances are that you will be actually hearing things—and from the sky—but the voice will be emanating from a sleek yellow plane bearing the insignia of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, Air Service Division.

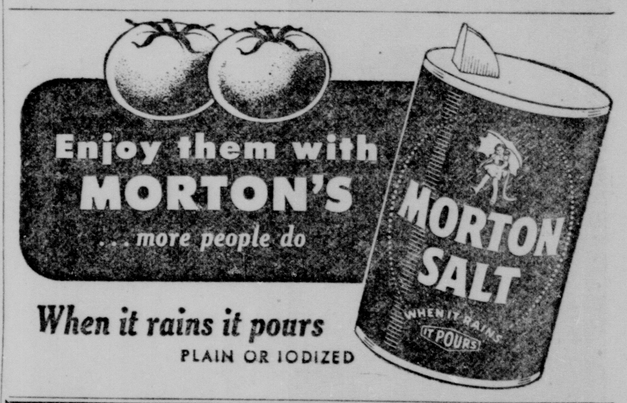

It's all part of the Department's plan, officials explain, of bringing science into play to cut down on the number of forest fires that are caused by careless people. For some time now the Department has ben experimenting with a loud-speaking attachment on some of its aircraft by means of which the pilot can communicate directly with persons on the ground below. It consists of a microphone into which the pilot speaks and a loud-speaker fitted into an aperture of the plane normally housing an aerial camera. Backed by a 100-watt amplifier the pilot can make his voice heard plainly on the ground from an altitude of 1800 feet and over a five-mile radius.

Annual rainfall in most of Saudi Arabia amounts only to about three inches.

DASH OF SWEDEN—Two pretty crew members of the Swedish steamship Stockholm use the tin-bucket method of beating the heat as the liner docks in New York. Pouring is Maj-Britt Dimberg, shop manager aboard the Stockholm, and on the receiving end is Stewardess Elsa Nilsson.

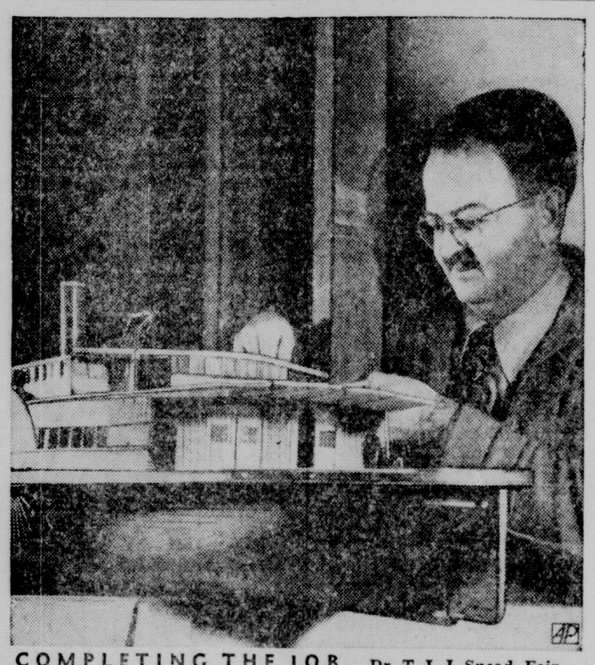

POCKET EDITION—Pequito, 2½-months-old Mexican Chihuahua, with fighting weight of five ounces, is comfortable in shirt pocket of his master, L. R. Handran, Washington, D. C.

PRESENTING HIS HANDIWORK— Jack Collier points out features of his working half-scale model of 1863 "C. P. Huntington" locomotive to sightseers at Oakland, Cal.

This is the year that rabbit is king. These fur fashions are high style but budget-priced. A batwing coat (left) simulates sheared beaver, is lined in turquoise wool jersey. Suit (center) has creamy beige rabbit fur jacket lined with taupe suede-cloth that makes it reversible. Coat in smoke-gray rabbit fur (right) has cardigan neckline and front bound in black braid. is closed with black frogs.

COMPLETING THE JOB— Dr. T. I. J. Snead, Fairfax, Cal., dentist, works on superstructure of "Sausalito," famed San Francisco Bay sternwheeler. Model took three years' work.

"Sea Insects"

Crustaceans of various sizes inhabit water in such multitudes that they may be termed the "insects of the sea," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Galleried Rock

The Rock of Gibraltar contains about 30 miles of galleries and at times during World War II 70,000 soldiers were stationed within its walls.

Buttermilk and sour skim milk are essentially the same substance. Practically all buttermilk manufactured today is skim milk to which a laboratory-controlled strain of lactic acid bacteria is added for flavor, body and texture.

CORN'S QUEEN—Pretty Nancy Lucas, queen of the Mendota, Ill., sweet corn festival, stirs a big vat of corn as her attendants, Norma Kaufman and Mary Sheridan, sample it. Mendota townsfolk and guests consumed eight tons of corn during the festival.

UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE—Sign posts that speak an international language were needed at the Seventh International Boy Scout Jamboree at Bad Ischl, Austria, attended by some 15,000 scouts from 47 nations. Here, two British Scout leaders, John Nicol, left, from Canal Zone, Suez, and Maj. Thomas W. Walles from Cairo, Egypt, get directions from a descriptive, cartoon-style sign post. Community News from Tipton

Mrs. T. W. Miller

Gentry W. Lowe, who has been city superintendent of the Roodhouse, Ill., public schools for the past three years, resigned August 3 and assumed his duties as the Greene county, Ill., superintendent of schools August 6, gaining the distinction of being the first Republican county superintendent of schools in the history of that county.

He was elected to this $7,300 a year school post at the general election last fall by the close margin of one vote.

Last June he and his wife and daughter Mary Ann purchased a modern home in Carrollton, Ill.

Mr. Lowe is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lowe and Mrs. Lowe is the former Miss Margaret Homfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Homfeldt, the families residing in Tipton.

Mrs. Lowe will operate a beauty shop in their home in Carrollton.

From Monday until Friday Mr. and Mrs. John Dueber entertained as their house guest Mr. Dueber's sister Sister Marianna, the former Miss Nora Dueber.

Sister Marianna was en route to Mendota, Ill., where she teaches in the grade school. She had been in school this summer at St. Ambrose college, in Davenport, Iowa.

A guest in the home from Saturday until Monday was Sister Ann Leonard, who will be remembered here as Miss Colette Bestgen, daughter of Mrs. Ella Bestgen, who resides with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Dueber.

Sister Ann Leonard is in charge of the nurses' training department at St. John's hospital in Helena, Mont. She supervised the training of 97 nurses last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leonard will move into their new home next week which was purchased from Raymond York. The home was recently built by him.

Mr. Leonard is employed at the Putnam-Gabert Chevrolet company and Mrs. Leonard is secretary in the law and insurance offices of Frank J. Quigley.

The couple has been living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Fricke.

Besides winning the blue ribbon for the prettiest girl baby in the 18-months-old and under class at the California fair, Virginia Gay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. (Bobby) Drake took the blue ribbon at the Mexico fair last week there having been 150 contestants in this class.

Virginia Gay received a silver loving cup at Mexico.

Mr. Drake, at the latter fair, won two gold trophies in the dog show on his pointers and a cocker spaniel.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Ferguson had as dinner guests in the home Sunday, Mr. Ferguson's niece Mrs. Ben Hall Merritt and daughter Margaret of Burlington, N. C.

B. D. Drake & Son, contractors, have built a new ceiling for Geo. Safire at his Tipton shoe rebuilders' shop. Fluorescent lighting fixtures are being installed and new shelving is to be added.

Wesley (Buck) Gish and his daughter Connie of Quincy, Ill., are visiting in the homes of Mr. Gish's brothers and sisters, Joe and Alfred Gish, Mrs. Louis Dick and Mrs. Alfred McNeal.

Besides catching the violators of the law Orville Arnold, Tipton's marshal-collector, is also good at catching fish. With his brother-in-law Joe Bill Lowe and Alvin Linhardt, an early morning trip a few days ago below the dam, netted the three a string of crappie.

Eating "Americans" Banned By Reds

BERLIN—(AP)—The Communists hate "Americans" so much they won't even eat them.

The "Americans" in question are small, sugar-covered biscuit cakes, which generations of Germans have eaten under the name of "Amerikaner." Nobody knows how they ever got that name.

But now the Communist East German authorities have decided that even cake "Americans" cannot be tolerated under their jurisdiction. The state-operated chain stores are now selling them as "Ammon cakes."

Anyhow, in the west they will continue under that name, and so will this popular anti-Red joke:

Two Communists meet on the street.

"Well, comrade," says one. "What have you dont today to help preserve peace?"

"Plenty," replies the other. "I ate two 'Americans.'"

The ancient "Church of the Twelve Apostles" in Las Trampas, N. M., was built by 12 men and took 12 years to build.

The Natural Geographic Society says the sturgeon is becoming a rarity except in Russian waters.

Try Pickle-Stuffed Franks

ZESTY PICKLES and beans stuffed into franks makes a delicious and economical dish.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pickles aid zip to inexpensive foods, taking the monotony out of budget meals.

Bean-pickle Stuffed Frankfurters
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

One 1-pound can pork and baked beans, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 10 frankfurters.

In a mixing bowl, mash the beans slightly; mix in relish and chili sauce. With a sharp knife split the frankfurters lengthwise without cutting all the way through. Fill with bean-pickle stuffing. Place in a baking pan and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

If desired, wrap each stuffed frankfurter with a strip of bacon before it goes in the oven and increase the baking time to 30 minutes instead of 20 minutes.

Here's a zesty variation on the old beet theme.

Orange Pickled Beets
(Makes 4-6 servings)

One tablespoon cornstarch, ¼ cup pickle liquid, one 1-lb. jar or can sliced beets, ¼ cup brown sugar, ¼ cup thinly sliced sweet gherkins, ½ teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

Mix cornstarch and pickle liquid to a smooth paste in a 1-quart saucepan. Drain liquid from beets, measure ⅔ cup beet liquid; add to cornstarch mixture, stirring to blend. Cook over medium heat 5 minutes, or until mixture thickens. Next add brown sugar, sweet gherkins, orange rind, butter or margarine, salt, pepper and drained beets. Heat thoroughly and serve.

MENU

BREAKFAST: Chilled sauerkraut juice, bacon and scrambled eggs, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cream of tomato soup, grilled crumpled bacon and peanut butter sandwiches, fresh fruit, tea, milk.

DINNER: Bean-pickle stuffed frankfurters, crisp pickles, radish fans, celery curls, brown bread, butter or fortified margarine, and chocolate ice cream sundae, coffee, milk.

Bear Grease Boomed Anew As Hair-Grower

RAMORE, Ont. — (AP) — Its bad news for bears, but one of the original, although almost forgotten cure-alls and hair-restorers is coming back.

"Bear grease," says Kelly Chamandy, the big bear man of Northern Ontario, "is good for every ailment of man, but it's particularly good for human hair. Baldness is unknown among the Indians because they use it," he claims

Kelly, a fur trader in this little bush community north of Kirkland Lake, is building a small industry based on the sale of "ba'r" grease to customers located from Mexico City to British Columbia. He will reduce about two dozen bears to grease this summer and will buy all the "essence de bear" that surrounding trappers can supply.

TOMMIES' NEW GUN — At Warminster, England, Cpl. E. Unsworth (foreground) demonstrates the new British .280 service rifle that drew high praise from some 200 ranking officers of North Atlantic Treaty Nations and other friendly countries, including Yugoslavia. Developed through five years of research, the .280 is almost a foot shorter and over a pound lighter than the U. S. Garand (M-1). Radically designed, it has an optical sight, no wooden stock and fires 20 rounds without reloading. In background is a soldier with the standard British bolt-action .303 rifle.

Iron Rates As The Most Useful Metal

By Hal Boyle

HIBBING, Minn.,—(AP)—What is the world's most valuable metal?

A merchant might say, "gold!" that word has never lost its lure. A scientist, thinking of new experiments in the atom bomb, might say, "uranium."

But in terms of everyday living the most valuable metal is still that old servant—iron. You have to eat iron to live. And iron is the muscle of steel. The framework of all great modern civilizations in war and in peace.

A nation without iron today is a nation without muscle. Americans use more iron than any other people. Yet they know as much about it as the average Chinaman does about the cause of athlete's foot.

Here are a few facts and figures about iron you can paste up for a quiz test:

Some 26 per cent of all iron produced in the United States comes from the Mesabi range here . . . it is in a great pocket of glacial drift about a hundred miles long and up to seven miles wide . . . so nature concentrates her bounties. . . .

Mesabi, also spelled Mesaba and Missabe, comes from a Chippewa Indian term meaning giant,s, who —legend says—once inhabited the region . . . the word "range" means "district" so the Mesabi range is "the district of the giants" . . . but iron is the only giant left. . . .

It is a giant that has poured its strength into plowshares and skyscrapers, put sinews in swords and tanks . . . without the Mesabi range America could hardly have fought and won two great wars so handily . . . or arm itself so well for a third one. . . .

Use Huge Shovels

Iron used to be clawed by picks in underground tunnels . . . some still is . . . but now huge shovels that do the work of scores of men strip off the covering soil surface, then scoop up five cubic feet of heavy ore as if it were so much ice cream . . . the shovels work down almost to the five-hundred foot level, creating great valleys of rust. . . .

One mining company in the Hull - Rust - Mahoning pit, the world's largest, has 55 miles of railroad track within this single vast hole . . . ore also is trundled to the surface in 22-ton trucks and by a coveyor belt forty stories tall. . . .

An odd sidelight: most viitors think the redder he earth the richer the ore content . . . 't'ain't so . . . the richest ore is blue-black, and crumbly . . . red rock, bearing low grade ore, is called "paint rock" by the miners . . . a cleaning-up operation, in which ore pockets are washed out by hydraulic pressure, is called "a scram job." . . .

Iron ore is sorted into 22 grades before it is trundled to Duluth in mile-long trains of 180 cars . . . each modern car now can carry 70 tons . . . nobody has ever been known to steal a loaded ore car . . . "he wouldn't find it easy to peddle," a rail official said. "That's one of the nice things about the business." . . .

The ore goes from the Duluth-Superior docks to the nation's smelters via the Great Lakes . . . the Brig Columbia carried only 132 tons in the first shipment in 1885 . . . big new modern vessels now carry 16,000 to 20,000 tons . . . and they can be loaded in four to six hours. . . .

What about the future, when the high-grade ore is exhausted? . . . one answer is Taconite, or low-grade ore . . . there are millions of tons of it . . . one company is spending more than $23,000,000 in research on ways to utilize it commercially . . . a pilot plant now is molding them into "iron eggs" richer than the best natural ore deposits . . . the process is called "beneficiation" and shows even the iron industry has its brand of gobbledegook. . . .

Another answer to America's coming iron shortage lies in the discovery of new ranges . . . they no longer look for them through hit-or-miss test drillings . . . they explore for iron by airplane now . . . the plane carries a gadget called a magnetometer . . . when its needle begins to jitterbug, that means "metal below" . . . and the more of this precious metal is found, the more secure is America's industrial might . . . but so far they can't mine it from raisins, unfortunately. . . .

Tin Can Fence Saves Highway Clutter

POLK, Neb.—(AP)—For a little ingenuity and hard work, Ralph Branting has a 24-foot garden fence and the highways around Polk are minus 328 empty beer cans.

Aware that the cans were an eyesore, the Polk man decided they might make a garden fence. He soldered 328 cans together into rows for a fence to separate his garden from that of his neighbor.

He plans eventually to paint the fence. But not until his neighbors see it. Branting hopes they'll take the hint and rid more roadsides of the rusty, empty cans.

By Sight or Smell

Some ants, foraging for food, find their way back home by sight, while other varieties of these insects guide themselves homeward by their sense of smell.

Hangs Onto Mate

When a male scorpion finds the mate of his choice, he takes no chances of losing her. He holds her by the "hand" while building the home.
